WHAT A WAY TO PARK

Wednesday won't be a day one Lincoln truck driver will want to remember. Hauling a bulldozer on his flat-bed semi-trailer rig, he suddenly found himself up in the air when he stopped for a stop sign at 9th and A. The bulldozer slid forward, and the resulting imbalance forced the front wheels into the air. (Star Photo)

Black Africans Lose U.N. Agreement Vote

. . . SECURITY COUNCIL SEAT TO MOROCCO

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The General Assembly Wednesday elected Morocco to a seat on the U.N. Security Council over Nigeria and thus turned back a bid by Black African nations to kill the 1946 "gentleman's agreement" on allocation of seats.

The decisive vote on the second ballot was 73 to 35—one more than the required two-thirds majority. Morocco was elected to succeed the United Arab Republic, thus upholding the tradition that an Arab or Middle East country should retain the council seat at issue.

Two Contenders

On the first ballot Morocco won 57 and Nigeria 30 votes with several other counties receiving scattered support. Under assembly rules the second ballot was restricted to the two main contenders.

No difficulty was encountered in the election of Norway, Brazil and the Philippines as other non-permanent members of the 11-nation council, the U.N.'s highest political organ. All were by secret ballot.

Norway was chosen to succeed Ireland and Brazil to succeed Chile for two-year terms. The Philippines was elected for a one-year term to succeed Romania under an agreement reached last year to split the normal two-year term. Neither was able to muster the required two-thirds majority in the balloting last December.

Permanent seats on the council are held by the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union and Nationalist China.

Under terms of the gentleman's agreement reached in London two of the non-permanent seats were allotted to Latin America, and one each to Eastern Europe, Western Europe, the Middle East and the British Commonwealth.

At that time U.N. membership was 51 compared with 109 at present.

Foreign Minister Jaja Wachuku of Nigeria waged his campaign on a kill-the-agreement platform. He argued that the African nations who make up the bulk of the newly admitted members are entitled to an African seat.

This caused a split in the 53-nation Asian-African nations, with 20 of the black African countries throwing their support to the Nigerian candidacy.

Nigeria had announced itself originally as a candidate for the West European seat held by Ireland, but decided later to vie for the seat held by the United Arab Republic.

Enlarge It

There is wide agreement among the Western as well as Asian-African nations that the Security Council should be enlarged to reflect the increased U.N. membership. The Soviet Union insists that Communist China must be admitted before enlargement of the council — a matter requiring revision of the U.N. charter — can be considered.

There is similar sentiment for increasing the U.N. Economic and Social Council but the threat of a Soviet veto has blocked any action along that line.

West Lincoln Fills 3 Board Vacancies

Three men were appointed to the West Lincoln village board of trustees Wednesday night filling vacancies left by the resignations of William Bitter, Lester Vest, and Elmer Gesch.

Given the oath of office and immediately taking their seats to fill out the resignees' remaining terms were Gerald A. Wagner, 25, an insurance agent for Mutual of Omaha, Curtis O. Jensen, 39, a Lincoln Board of Education employe, and James R. Francke, 31, manager of the Esquire Club.

The appointments were made by Richard Trotter, acting chairman after Bitter's resignation, and Mildred Osten, the one other original board member.

Trotter was then appointed permanent board chairman, resigning from the posts of street commissioner and police commissioner for the village.

Francke was appointed board vice-chairman and Wagner and Jensen police commissioner and building inspector respectively. Gesch previously had been building inspector.

By unanimous assent of the board, Trotter was returned to the position of street commissioner.

Bitter, Vest and Gesch resigned Monday.

Ben Bella And Castro Agree . . .

DEMAND U.S. LEAVE

Havana (UPI) — Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella has joined with Premier Fidel Castro in demanding that the United States give up its big naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, the government announced Wednesday night.

A communique, issued after Ben Bella had departed for New York following a 24-hour whirlwind state visit here, said the two leaders found they had "essentially identical points of view" after lengthy talks on international affairs.

They agreed on "the immediate necessity of evacuating troops and dismantling foreign military bases" around the world including the Guantanamo base, the communique said.

In a joint communique they agreed on:

"The immediate need for the evacuation of troops and the dismantling of foreign military bases in other countries including the naval base at Guantanamo, about which the revolutionary (Castro) government and the people of Cuba have repeatedly manifested their intention of demanding the return of this Cuban territory occupied by the base, at the proper time, through the means offered under international law."

Ben Bella landed at New York's Idlewild airport at 8:24 p.m. CST after a nonstop flight from Havana aboard a Cuban government airliner. He declined to talk with newsmen.

Before leaving Havana Ben Bella pledged Castro support of his communist-directed Cuban regime, promised him a medal and invited him to visit Algeria.

According to the communique issued after Ben Bella's departure he and Castro also agreed on the need for "the unconditional abolition of colonialism, imperialist oppression and neo-colonialism" and said that such achievements were "indispensable for the elimination of the catastrophic dangers of a thermonuclear war and for the consolidation of world peace and security."

In another move, the Castro government announced that President Osvaldo Dorticos has wired recognition of the new revolutionary government of Yemen. Dorticos sent "congratulations" to the rebels for the ouster of the old monarchy.

In their communique, there was also an apparent veiled new warning to the United States—although that country was not mentioned by name—not to attack Cuba.

Choose Form

Ben Bella agreed with Castro, according to the communique, that Cuba has the "inalienable right" to choose its own form of political life and declared:

"Any attempt to block or impede the exercise of that right constitutes a violation of the United Nations charter and the norms of international law and gravely jeopardizes peace and international security."

—POWELL REPUDIATES 'OLD GUARD'—

Republican Governor Bolts; Supports Demo

Manchester, N.H. (UPI) — Lame-duck Gov. Wesley Powell, defeated for renomination in the Republican primary, bolted his party Wednesday night and pledged his support to the Democratic candidate for governor.

In a 30-minute televised speech Powell urged voters to give the Republican Party in New Hampshire "a good jolt" and join him in voting for John King of Manchester, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

King replied, "I appreciate the support of Gov. Powell and I am happy to receive it."

'Old Guard'

Powell accused the Republican candidate for governor, New Hampshire House Speaker John M. Pillsbury, of being committed to the "old guard" faction in the state.

He said that Pillsbury, a former executive of the public service company of New Hampshire, the state's largest utility, was "an obstructionist" during his service in the house.

"I cannot and will not vote for him," Powell said.

By 13,000

Pillsbury defeated Powell in the Sept. 11 GOP primary by some 13,000 votes.

King, a 44-year old Manchester lawyer and house minority leader, said, "I welcome the support of Republicans as I honestly believe that I can better represent the many Republicans who are dissatisfied with the Republican nominee for governor."

Powell's announcement was not too surprising since he has been attacking Pillsbury since his Sept. 11 defeat.

Powell said the thing that makes him "most happy" is that "I have been my own master."

He said he would not be in his present position if it were not for the death of Republican Sen. Styles Bridges in November 1961.

Refusal

The governor referred to his refusal to appoint the Senator's widow, Mrs. Dolores Bridges, to fill the vacant seat. Instead, he named then State Atty. Gen. Maurice J. Murphy Jr. to be the interim Senator. Murphy and Mrs. Bridges both were defeated for the Senate nomination last month by U.S. Rep. Perkins Bass, R-N.H.

NEGROES PROTEST SLAYING OF YOUTH

. . . By Macon, Ga., Police

Macon, Ga. (AP) — Several hundred Negroes, wearing black bands of mourning on their arms, marched without incident Wednesday in downtown Macon as a protest to the shooting of a 17-year-old Negro by policemen.

Police took an attitude of non-interference and the estimated 400 Negroes marched quietly for 8 blocks.

"Stop this senseless killing," read one of two placards carried by the demonstrators.

Informed

Walking 3 and 4 abreast, the Negroes marched around the city hall and reportedly were informed that both the mayor and the police chief were out.

Only a few policemen were in evidence and white spectators simply stood and watched.

Although the protest march was in violation of a city ordinance, city spokesmen said they didn't feel they should interfere since the march was orderly. Similar marches in Albany, Ga., during a 9-month period resulted in the jailing of hundreds.

Held Rally

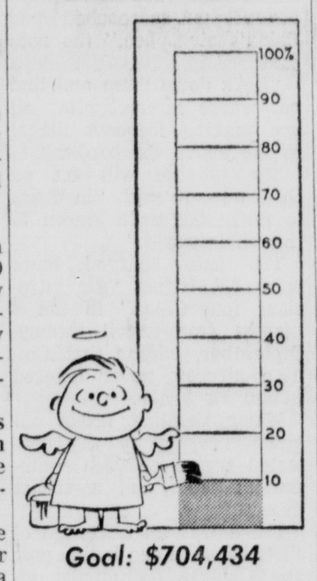

Integration leader William P. Randall told about 500 Negroes at a church rally earlier that the demonstrators hoped to confer with city officials about the fatal shooting of A. C. Hall by two policemen Saturday night.

Hall was shot by officers J. L. Durden and J. T. Brown who said they fired when the youth turned and reached toward his pocket.

The officers said they were attempting to arrest Hall for the theft of a pistol from a car. The stolen pistol was found near the spot where the arrest was attempted.

Police Chief L. B. McCallum suspended the two officers Tuesday night until the investigation is completed.

Ella Turns Into Full Hurricane

Miami (UPI) — Storm Ella grew into a full-fledged hurricane with 80-mile-an-hour winds Wednesday and pointed its huge eye at the Carolinas coastline.

The Weather Bureau ordered gale warnings raised from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to Georgetown, S.C.

Ella, a hybrid storm with an odd separation of winds and clouds in its "eye," was located in a Miami Weather Bureau advisory near latitude 29.1 north, longitude 75.6 west, or about 330 miles east of Daytona Beach.

Headed North

The hurricane was moving toward the north-northwest at about 10 miles per hour and the Weather Bureau said it should hold this course and speed for the next 12 hours.

High winds and waves leaped ahead of the storm on its strong side to the north. Ships 100 to 150 miles offshore were reporting winds up to 45 miles an hour during the afternoon, the Weather Bureau said.

The advisory said winds and seas would gradually increase along the Eastern Seaboard between Jacksonville and Cape Hatteras. Winds should reach gale force between Georgetown and Cape Hatteras by late Thursday, the Weather Bureau said.

In The Clear

"The Florida east coast appears to be in the clear, although rough seas will continue north of Palm Beach," the advisory said.

It said "only slight intensification is expected" in the hurricane during the next few hours.

Ella flung its gales outward 350 miles to the north and 175 miles to the south.

5th Of Season

The storm, fifth tropical disturbance of the season, grew out of a huge area of squalls sprawled over the Atlantic and never developed all normal characteristics of a "normal" hurricane.

The dead-calm eye of a hurricane usually is defined by a doughnut-shaped wall of clouds inside which winds are negligible.

But Ella had a "cloud eye" and a "wind eye." The cloud eye measured 120 miles from wall to wall, but there was a perimeter of winds inside this. The actual dead-calm area, or wind eye, measured about 80 miles across.

20-To-40

Hurricane eyes generally measure 20 to 40 miles in diameter.

As Ella moved offshore, rough seas crashed against the east coast from Fort Pierce, Fla., to Georgetown. Highest winds measured on shore during the afternoon were 35-mile-an-hour gusts near St. Augustine, Fla.

The zig-zag movements of Ella made forecasters uncertain where it might go ashore.

Ranger Shot Slated In Spite Of Hurricane

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—With a wary eye on the unwelcome flirtations of a hurricane named Ella, the space agency announced Wednesday that Ranger 5 will lift off on its exploatory voyage to the moon sometime after 10:38 a.m. (CST) Thursday.

While Ella — a tropical storm of almost hurricane force—was churning up 60 to 70 mile winds some 300 miles off the Florida coast and taking aim on America's spaceport, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Tuesday night called off the Ranger shot until next month. But Ella changed course overnight, turning more northward.

NASA officials pored over Weather Bureau reports shortly before noon and put Ranger 5 back on a tentative schedule. But a spokesman said a close watch still was being kept on the weather.

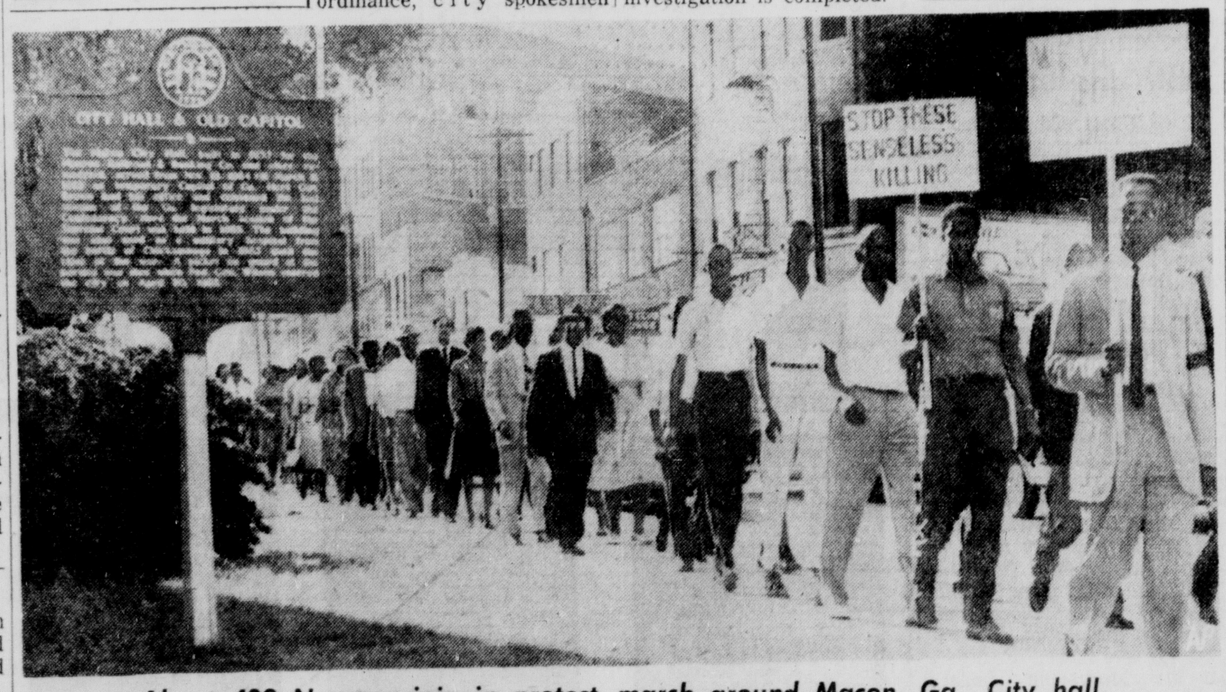

The shot must go off by mid-afternoon Friday or be canceled until about Nov. 13. Celestial geometry moves the moon into position for the favorable shot only 4 days of each month.

Ranger 5 was scheduled for Tuesday, but postponed one day because of mechanical difficulties. Then Ella appeared.

Plan To Sell A-Sub To France Rumored

Might Aid Problem Of Dollar Loss

Washington (AP)—The United States is trying to interest France in buying a nuclear submarine to cut down the U.S. foreign trade deficit, according to the latest version of a reported possible deal.

An earlier report was that the United States had practically completed a submarine deal with France to fulfill a promise made to President Charles de Gaulle 4 years ago by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Another informant said the sale was still only in the talk stage and Eisenhower had nothing to do with it.

The latest version, gleaned from informed sources Wednesday, was that a nuclear-powered submarine was just one of the things on a list of items the United States thought France might be interested in buying with dollars.

This list was presented to France in an effort to reduce the gold-dollar imbalance of trade between the two countries, currently running $225 million annually.

There was no official comment on this version either, but it was believed that the offer was still under discussion, with no decision either by France to buy or by the United States to sell.

Under the Atomic Energy Act, the President would have to recommend and Congress approve sale of a submarine with a nuclear power plant.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said that group has neither received nor cleared any proposal to sell a nuclear submarine to France.

"It long has been the policy of the joint committee to oppose the proliferation of nuclear weapons and nuclear submarines to other nations," Holifield said.

Repeal Of Student Loan Plan Non-Communist Oath Signed

Washington (AP) — No longer will a student have to sign a non-communist oath to qualify for a government loan under the National Defense Education Act.

President Kennedy signed legislation Wednesday wiping out that long-criticized requirement and declared "I am glad" to do so.

When he was a senator, Kennedy twice tried and failed to have the affidavit repealed.

The oath requirement, Kennedy said in a statement, has caused 32 colleges to stay out of the student loan program and many others participated reluctantly. The reason, as pointed out in testimony by several spokesmen for colleges, the President said, was that the oath "discriminated against college students and was offensive to them."

"It is highly unlikely that the affidavit requirement kept any communist out of the programs," Kennedy said. "It did, however keep out those who considered the disclaimer affidavit a bridle upon freedom of thought."

The new law now makes it illegal for anyone to apply for a loan or grant if he is a member of a communist organization registered under the Subversive Activities Control Act.

We'll Meet Any Red Move In Berlin

Washington (AP) — Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder of West Germany conferred with President Kennedy 90 minutes Wednesday and announced afterward "full and complete agreement" on meeting any new Soviet move to drive the West ouf of Berlin.

But there were grave doubts among both U.S. and German informants that the two nations had produced any formula bridging the gap in their thinking on the two main issues:

—The U.S. expectation that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is planning to whip up a first-rate Berlin crisis after the U.S. elections Nov. 6, a view the Germans think is at least partially motivated by the forthcoming balloting.

Block Attempt

—The West German position that any attempt by the Soviets to impose visa controls on Western civilian traffic into Berlin should be met with energetic counter-measures, a view the United States does not fully accept.

On the surface, however, Schroeder gave no indication of any such disagreement. Emerging from Kennedy's office, he told reporters:

"We find ourselves in agreement on the assessment of the Berlin situation and on the methods to be applied to meet the situation."

Schroeder would not say specifically what subjects were discussed. But in reply to questions he said that West German troops would stand beside the Western forces in meeting any new Soviet pressure, that all Western nations with an interest in Berlin are taking a firm stand, and that he sees no need for new initiatives now.

Asked what effect a possible meeting between Kennedy and Khrushchev might have on the Berlin issue, he said only, "talks are better than fights."

Such a meeting, long considered a possibility later this year, may come up for discussion when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko confers with Kennedy here Thursday.

It could also arise when Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany meets here with Kennedy Nov. 7. Schroeder, who will accompany the chancellor to Washington said his present trip helped "to prepare the visit."

All signs indicated the Kennedy administration had had little success in selling the Bonn government its view that Khrushchev is planning an all-out effort this time to get the West out of Berlin, and that Western diplomacy should be shaped in advance to meet it.

Two Frenchmen Cross English Channel On Kites

Dover, England (AP) — Two French parachutists crossed the English Channel Wednesday each dangling on the end of a kite.

They crossed in opposite directions, each trying to be the first across.

Gil Delamare, 42, set off from Calais and touched down on an English beach 95 minutes later. He was the first.

Jean-Claude Dubois, 25, salied off from Dover.

Both men were towed through the channel mist by speedboats with their huge kites flapping behind them.

As the boats gathered speed, the kites filled with wind and lifted the men above the water.

18 Foot Wings

Dubois' kite had 18 foot wings. He ran along the beach for 100 yards as the boat gathered speed, then was swept 300 feet into the air.

Halfway across the parachutists ran into dense fog. But their motor boats kept chugging away at a steady 15 knots, the kite men flapped behind them.

Delamare nearly got a ducking. He was at the water's edge before the wind filled his kite. He pulled up his legs to skim the water but quickly soared up to 150 feet.

Only 30 Feet

For most of the trip, however, he was only 30 feet above the water.

Dubois is one of Europe's foremost parachutists. He has made more than 1,700 drops.

After his kite crossing, he will attempt to reach France by parachute, baling out over Dover and floating across to Calais, 26 miles away.

Dubois recently made a parachute drop on the top of Mount Kilimanjaro in Africa. He was in Spain when he heard of Delamare's intended crossing. He rushed to Dover for the attempt.

He made the crossing in 74 minutes, 21 less than Delamare.

Dubois started after Delamare was kite-borne.

Red China Threatens To Down Planes

Tokyo (Thursday) (AP)—Red China notified India today that Chinese forces along the disputed Tibetan-Indian frontier henceforth intend to force down or shoot down any alien plane that enters their air space.

It suggested in a note delivered to the Indian Embassy in Peiping that India down any aerial intruders on its side.

Answering Prime Minister Nehru's recent denial of what the New China News Agency called "the fact that Indian aircraft had encroached upon China's air space," the note said:

"Let's down them and find out whose aircraft after all are making frequent illegal flights above the border."

The Chinese will act on their own, it said, "in order to make the truth known to the whole world."

The note charged there were 431 Indian "air intrusions into China" in the 6 months from April through September, adding that Chinese aircraft never entered Indian air space.

Minor shooting broke out again Tuesday in the contested region between south-central Tibet and northeast Tibet.

There was an exchange of shots between one Indian post and Chinese Communist intruders in the area south of Thagla Ridge, which India regards as the border, a New Delhi spokesman said.

Saud Changes Cabinet; Yemen Crises Continue

Damascus, Syria (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia Wednesday asked Foreign Minister Prince Faisal, his brother and heir, to form a new government, Mecca radio reported. The abrupt move apparently was related to recurrent crises developing over neighboring Yemen where renewed fighting was reported and the deposed king formed a provisional royalist regime.

Saud, a partisan of the dethroned royalists of Yemen, dissolved his cabinet in the country's general interest, the Saudi Arabian radio said. No other reason was given.

Faisal was in Nw York as chief of the Saudi delegation at the United Nations. The delegation declined to comment on the radio report.

Meanwhile, the United Arab Republic's Cairo radio claimed that a new attempt by a Saudi Arabian force to penetrate Yemen's north was repulsed by the ruling Yemeni revolutionaries.

Saud's dismissal of the cabinet appeared to be aimed at setting up a stronger administration to face the challenge posed by the support given Yemen by President Nasser of the UAR, Saud's no. 1 foe in the Arab world.

There were mounting expectations that Yemeni royalists were poised for a new counter-offensive, with a Mecca radio report that dethroned King Mohammed Al-Badr formed the provisional government.

The 21-day-old Yemeni republican regime at San'a, the capital, apparently was not secure, as had been claimed earlier by Premier Abdullah Sallal; the revolutionaries now acknowledge that fresh fighting had broken out along Yemen's northern border.

In other developments:

The Damascus daily Al Nasr reported that a delegation of high-ranking Iraqi army officers flew to San'a to establish strong relations with the revolutionary government.

San'a radio reported that 5 royalist army officers were sentenced to death before a firing squad.

The Soviet Union agreed to supply Yemen with technicians and grain in a pact concluded by the head of the Soviet mission in Yemen, San'a radio said.

In the Saudi Arabian action, King Saud asked the outgoing ministers to remain in office until Faisal formed a new cabinet.

Marysville Sheriff Holds Lincolnites With Stolen Auto

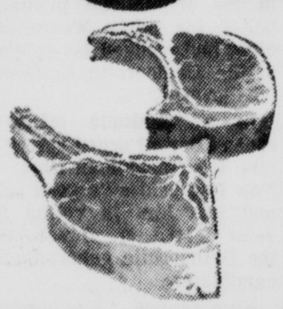

Two 28-year-old Lincoln men were arrested near Marysville, Kan., Wednesday night in a car stolen earlier Wednesday in Lincoln.

Detective Capt. Robert Sawdon said the car, owned by Delbert L. Sinn, Hilltop Motel, had been taken about 4:15 p.m. It had been parked on "O" between 15th and 16th.

Officer Marlin Rauscher saw the vehicle, with two male occupants, proceeding west on "O" about 4:22 p.m.

The car was later spotted by Beatrice police, who engaged in a high speed chase at speeds over 100 miles an hour, Sawdon said. The chase led them to a point 4 miles north of Marysville, where they got the occupants out of the car and turned them over to the Marysville sheriff's office.

Fund Drive Hits 14.5% Of Its Goal

One of the founders of the Lincoln Community Chest was honored at the first report luncheon Wednesday, while workers reported 14.5% of the 1962 goal pledged.

Special guest was Verne Hedge, who was president of Lincoln Rotary Club No. 14 when the Rotary board initiated the formation of the Community Chest.

Discussions of a united fund drive began in 1921-22 when Hedge was president of Rotary, and during 1922-23 Hedge and O. J. Fee represented Rotary when work began by a group representing all Lincoln service clubs to plan to community chest. The chest was officially formed in February of 1923 to raise funds for Lincoln's social agencies.

Over $100,000

At Wednesday's luncheon, on the 8th day of the campaign for $704,434, reported gifts totaled $102,528.

Glenn Bonacker, chairman of the unit firm division, reported that 5 unit firms had reached or topped their goals.

The 5, Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska, General Tobacco and Candy Co., Golds of Nebraska, H. P. Lau and Union Insurance, reported that their combined employee groups and corporations had raised $46,120.45, or 12.8% of the unit firm goal of $360,000.

Harry Seward, chairman of advance gifts, reported that his division had met 15.7%, or $26,840, of its $170,000 goal. The solicitation of the advance gifts division began on September 14 and the 100 unit firms started their solicitation on September 6.

Women Score

The women's division, headed by Mrs. Gene Christiansen and her assistants Mrs. Boyd Wedgwood and Mrs. Don Weller, reported $7,585 or 52% of their $14,568 goal.

The new business and government division led by Burt Folsom, who is assisted by Chuck Sayre, head of public departments, reported 13.8% of its $158,866 goal, or $21,983.

Lt. Col. Harry R. Dexter, head of the United Appeal at Lincoln Air Force Base, reported that LAFB had raised $293 or 2% of its $18,500 goal.

Other teams under business and government: Team I, headed by Gene Wolken, reported 1.5% of $83; Team II, Charles Cleveland, no report; Team III, Herb Henry, 12% or $2,077; Team IV, J. B. Dresselhaus, 15% or $3,504; Team V, Robert Durrie, 13% or $1,325; Team VI, Jack Hoyt, 14% or $1,343; Team VII, Larry Meyers, 5% or $257; Team VIII, Jerry Bush, 15% or $6,272, and Team IX, Dar Blazek, 27% or $6,819.

Report luncheons will be held Thursday and Friday of this week and Monday through Friday next week at the Chamber of Commerce. The luncheons are "dutch treat" and are not financed through contributions to the United Appeal. Campaign chairman for the 1963 United Appeal is Myron Weil.

FUND MOVES AHEAD

Casey Walker of 1809 P, the chap who was sliding down the light pole on Page 1, moved the United Fund dial ahead to its 14.5% total Wednesday. Walker has performed the same chores for the last 5 years, during which the indicator has been on the marquee at Penney's, 13th and O. Walker often slides down the nearby pole when he has finished his chores. He used a ladder to get up there Wednesday, but on dry days often shinnies up the pole. (Star Photo)

Hastings College Units Dedicated

Hastings (AP) — Hurley-McDonald Hall, an administrator and classroom building at Hastings College made possible by a $150,000 grant from the J. M. McDonald Foundation, was dedicated Wednesday.

The dedicatory address was made by former Gov. Val Peterson, representing the foundation. The building, is named in honor of the late J. M. McDonald Sr., originator of the foundation, and the late Henry A. Hurley, father of Mrs. J. M. McDonald Jr.

It is the first of two new buildings to be dedicated this week.

Bellevue House, a half-million-dollar student center and dining hall, will be dedicated Saturday.

Divergent Forces Collide At Council

Vatican City (AP) — Divergent forces in the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council were engaged Wednesday in an indirect struggle for ascendancy.

It was a subtle affair couched in careful words and parliamentary protocol. But it was plainly an undercurrent here at this grand-scale gathering of the church's reigning episcopate.

The test centered momentarily and in part, on the outcome of an election of 10 key commissions. But it also loomed as a decisive factor in the whole sourse of the council.

Leaders of the cautiously traditionalist view want to keep authority closely centralized in the Vatican Curia. The progressives favor more local autonomy for bishops.

The differences also had other wide implications.

Generally, the progressives also seek a broader interpretation on the church's nature, extensive readjustments in its practices, a bigger role for laymen and a more open approach to other Christian bodies.

"There are two general tendencies at work," said the Rev. John B. Sheerin, a leading American Catholic scholar and editor. "The conservatives feel we should preserve the status quo. The progressives believe we must change to meet the challenges of the times."

The cross-currents have cropped up in various ways in the first 6 days of this historic council, in formal but significant procedural moves.

So far, these have been engineered — successfully — by the progressives.

Pope John XXIII, the dominant spirit of the council, told a regular weekly general audience Wednesday that he was pleased with the way the council was progressing. "We are on our way," he said.

"Don't be concerned that things are going slowly; he who moves slowly proceeds safely and goes far."

Practice Bombs Explode; Ammo Plant Destroyed

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — Fire which touched off hundreds of simulated bombs flashed through an ammunition assembly building Wednesday, burning it to the ground and causing an estimated $40,000 damage.

Three of the 35 women working at the Pace Corporation plant were taken to a hospital suffering from shock.

At the height of the spectacular blaze, pieces of metal and burning debris erupted from the flames as one by one the 500 bombs in the building blew up with a roar. No one was hit.

Simulated, or practice bombs are smaller and less powerful than regular bombs. About 10 inches long and 3 inches in diameter, they are used by the Armed forces for training purposes.

A woman worker was putting a fuse into one of the bombs when she saw smoke coming from it. Instead of putting it in a specially prepared safety bucket beside her, she panicked and threw it aside.

It landed in a tray containing more bombs." That started a chain reaction.

"The girls kept calm and managed to get out," the production manager said. "Luckily the bombs have a 10-second delay before they go off."

Flory Will Hear Massie's Trial

Clay Center (AP) — Judge Robert Flory of Columbus has been selected to hear the embezzlement trial of former Clay County Attorney Jerry T. Massie, it was announced Wednesday by Jay Sullivan, present county attorney.

Massie was charged with 5 counts of embezzlement. Two judges in the immediate area have disqualified themselves from the case.

Bitter Promises Statement About Resignation Issues

Former West Lincoln Board Chairman William Bitter said Wednesday a statement on the issues and matters leading to the resignation of himself and two other board members would be made within the next week or 10 days.

Lester Vest, Elmer Gesch and Bitter resigned Monday as West Lincoln trustees.

Bitter said he, the other two resigned members and citizens "supporting our position" would meet soon with news representatives "to tell our story to the public."

Commenting briefly on the resignations, Bitter said he and his colleagues "felt we were open targets as public officials and any public discussion of West Lincoln affairs should be done as private citizens."

Bitter said "very few people have been willing to serve on the board of trustees because of abuse from the community" and attributed this to misunderstandings and other factors in West Lincoln that would be publicly outlined at the news conference.

The board resignations followed by a month a petition signed by 82 of West Lincoln's 500 citizens asking for a referendum to recall Bitter that was filed with the board.

Lloyd Chapman, attorney for the village, advised Nebraska statutes make no provision for recall except in the case of cities with a commission form of government.

30 Prospective Jurors Qualified In Bloomer Trial

Hays, Kan. (AP) — Sixteen more prospective jurors were qualified Wednesday, bringing the total to 30 for the trial of Harry Jack Bloomer, accused of first degree murder in the slaying of a city marshal.

District Judge Benedict P. Cruise said 44 persons will be qualified. Attorneys on both sides estimated selection of the jury will be completed by late Thursday. It has been in progress two days.

A total of 79 prospective jurors were questioned in the first two days and 49 dismissed, most of them because of beliefs about capital punishment or life imprisonment.

The 29-year-old Bloomer is charged in the fatal shooting of Al Claycamp, 37, city marshal of Wakeeney, Kan., last July.

Bloomer's hitch-hiking partner in the case, Shirley Nixon, 17, of Wilsonville, Neb., has been committed as a juvenile delinquent to the Girls' Industrial School at Beloit, Kan.

Red Rockets Hit In Pacific Impact Areas

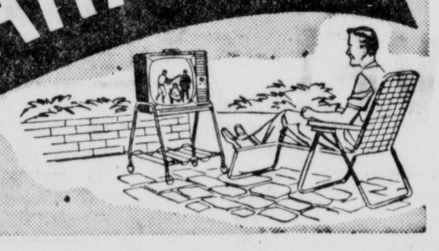

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union announced Wednesday night it had carried out two days of successful 7,500-mile rocket shots into the Pacific.

One of the two impact areas in the Pacific, was declared temporarily open again to ships and planes. The announcement indicated that the area, near the Marshall Islands, would be closed again later. The Russians had asked ships and planes to stay clear of the area beginning Tuesday.

The announcement by the Soviet news agency Tass, as broadcast by Moscow radio, said the multi-stage rocket launchings Tuesday and Wednesday proceeded according to plan.

Representation Amendment

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Of top interest among amendments to be voted on Nov. 6 is the proposed change in the state constitution calling for use of a 20 to 30 per cent area factor in representation in the State Legislature. This amendment would do away with population as the sole basis for determining legislative representation. Thus, some or all areas of the state would be given representation according to area as well as people.

It is unfortunate that this issue has evolved into such a heated and partisan proposal. It has gotten to the point where the real issue involved has been buried under claims of Omaha dominance of the Legislature. This, of course, is not the case and the question is a legitimate constitutional and governmental one that should be answered by the voters with sincerity and honesty. Overlooked is the fact that if the Legislature were placed on a strict population basis, the metropolitan areas of Lincoln and Omaha combined would still be able to muster only one-third of the membership. This would hardly be a dominant voice compared to the two-thirds membership from the rest of the state.

Two Cities Minority

And since when have Omaha and Lincoln been considered as a bloc that votes together? The fact is that Omaha and Lincoln senators do not always agree even with the colleagues from their own city. Nor does anyone from Omaha or Lincoln intend to do away with or in any way damage the predominantly rural areas of this state. Senators from these two areas are not so naive as to believe our agricultural economy is not of great importance.

The real question involved in this dispute is not at all complicated and while it might be settled differently by different people, certainly there is room for an honest rather than a heated difference of opinion. Those who oppose the amendment giving weight to area in reapportionment simply believe that population is the only fair and equitable means of determining legislative seats.

In this belief they are backed up by a majority opinion of the courts, including the Supreme Court of the United States. A number of arguments are set forth in trying to show why area should be given consideration but they fail to pass most tests. One argument is that area is a proper consideration because this is the basis for determining membership in the Senate of the United States. The only trouble is that the U.S. Senate and the legislators of the various states are not one and the same thing. One is a federal matter where the question of states rights and sovereignty of the states is concerned. It was intended when our form of government was established that the states should retain as much independence and equality as was possible.

But the relationship between the states and the federal government is not the same as the relationship between states and all their people and their governmental subdivisions. A state is a governmental unit all its own. It is one and unified and there has never been any division of the political kind that stands between the states and the federal government. It is true that all states except Nebraska have had a two-house legislature and one of them filled on an area as well as population basis. But the mere existence of such a state of affairs is no guarantee of its validity. Such a system in the states has also been attacked by the majority of court opinion. The courts have generally said that representation must be based on population, period, not on population in one house and area in another.

But the greatest indictment of area as a factor in representation is the fallacy of the idea in and of itself. To use area is to say that because one man owns more land than another, he is entitled to more representation. Is the city resident who lives on a 100-foot lot given any more governmental consideration than the city resident who lives on a 60-foot lot?

The only extra consideration he gets is the privilege of paying more of the cost of government. The area idea is to say that because the farm land which once supported two people now supports only one, the one who is gone is still entitled to representation. This is giving representation to a non-existent citizen. It is to place a growing responsibility for the affairs of the state in a shrinking body of the state.

It is a reversal of the economic and social trends of the day. If rural areas are given additional representation because of the economic importance of agriculture, why not give all economic segments consideration? If agriculture is entitled to separate representation, what about retailing, whosesaling, transportation, communications and the professions? It is not that anyone has anything against the rural areas or against agriculture; it is just that they do not constitute a legitimate basis for representation. This question should not be decided on the basis of who is going to dominate whom.

Equal Voice For All

This is a question that should be decided on the basis of what is fair and equitable. Do we want people represented in our Legislature or do we want land represented or perhaps economic factions? Do we want to do what is right or do we want to practice favoritism? Should the cities of Nebraska be denied the representation to which they are entitled simply because somebody else would like to have that representation?

Informed Minority

An Associated Press inquiry revealed that, in the 1963 wheat referendum, only 247,500 of the qualified 910,000 eligible voters actually cast their ballots.

This means that the federal Department of Agriculture's crop control program, which required a two thirds majority and got 68.4 per cent of the vote, was approved by but 19 per cent of the eligible voters.

This sovereignty by a minority is the basis of complaint by the opponents of federal crop control programs who contend that the whole thing is not representative and not democratic. It is an argument that could appeal to anyone too busy to consider the question in depth.

But it is a wrong presumption to assume that a full vote would have overthrown the results. It is just as wrong to assume that the election of a national president is anti-democratic because a great number of qualified voters fail to go to the polls. And it is invalid to presume that those who would be against a question are the non-voters. It is probably more truthful to assume that the stay-at-homes either are acquiescent or are not sufficiently partisan to express a position. That would reduce the field of voters to those who hold decisive feelings and that does reveal the ratio of opinion.

A good deal is said about total voting and it would be a wonderful country if every citizen exercised the franchise fully, but it is more important, democratically speaking, that those who do vote are sufficiently informed and have decided views. It is the quality of the vote more than the quantity that counts.

Drivers' Re-examination

In the face of Nebraska's mounting highway death toll, it is difficult to argue with Sen. Marvin Stromer's proposal to introduce legislation calling for the re-examination of all drivers every four years. Still, some thought might well be given this idea before it is enacted into law.

An effort should be made, for one thing, to determine what causes of accidents might be eliminated with such a law. There are very few accidents caused these days by the simple inability of people to drive properly. When this inability is a factor, it is generally associated with age. The major accident factors are carelessness and irresponsibility and neither of these would be discovered in any re-examination.

The person who does not obey stop signs, who drives on the wrong side of the road, who passes on hills and curves, who will not dim his lights on the highway, who exceeds the speed limits and who violates the other traffic laws will not do these things in the presence of an examiner. At that time he will be a model of politeness, courtesy, consideration and responsibility.

It is possible that sight, hearing and other defects might be present even in some youthful drivers but there are experts who could give us a pretty good picture of this possibility. Such a re-examination program as Stromer suggests would not be a terrible burden but would be an inconvenience to people. And it would take longer than the 30 minutes mentioned by Stromer. Driving safety is largely a matter of personal responsibility and good law-enforcement. It is in these two areas that our efforts should be concentrated.

Loyalty Oath Dead

The controversial loyalty oath required of researchers and students receiving loans or grants from the National Science Foundation or under the National Defense Act has been abandoned.

President Kennedy this week signed into law the new congressional measure which gets at the problem in another way. It makes it illegal for potential recipients to accept a loan or grant if they belong to proscribed communist organizations. The defunct oath required the denial of membership in support of any organization believing in or teaching the overthrow of the U.S. government by force or illegal means.

The new law does not minimize the consequences of subversion, but it promises to arrive at security by a more practical method.

There were two serious flaws in the oath. (1) It tended to stigmatize scholars as more probable subversives than the general run. This resulted in a reluctance of some definitely non-subversive persons to participate in needed research. (2) It conceivably operated to the advantage of the real subversive. An oath deceitfully given tended to give such a person an extra mantle of security. All citizens take an oath of allegiance. If a subversive will break this first oath he will also break succeeding ones if it is expedient.

The best protection still is most careful screening of candidates and strict vigilance thereafter. The legal disabilities placed in the way of specific subversion are less preventive than definitive. They identify the crime and prescribe specific punishment.

Unpunished War Figures Safe Here

WASHINGTON—Two men implicated in the murder of Jews and Orthodox Serbs during the war have figured in the California election due in the fact that they have been given political protection in the United States.

No. 1 is Nicolae Malaxa, the big Roumanian industrialist, now living at 1158 Fifth Ave., New York, who, according to German war documents placed in the Congressional Record by Rep. John Shelley, D., Calif., financed the Roumanian Iron Guard in its horrible mass murder of Roumanian Jews.

Richard M. Nixon, while a senator, worked to keep Malaxa in the United States, according to Shelley, after Malaxa had hired Nixon's former law partner, Thomas Bewley, and his first political backer, Herman L. Perry. Shelley introduced documents to prove his point while Rep. William Ryan, D., N.Y., read a statement by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D., N.Y., that Nixon, as a senator, had pushed a private bill for the relief of Malaxa.

Rep. Frank Kowalski, D., Conn., Rep. Cecil King, D., Calif., and others showed that Malaxa had worked closely with the Nazis, then with the communists, and had come to the United States under the auspices of a communist government of Roumania. Yet Malaxa is living happily in New York.

War criminal No. 2 is Andrea Artukovic, the Himmler of Yugoslavia, who has been officially charged with the murder of 60,000 Jews and 600,000 Serbs during the Nazi occupation of Yugoslavia.

☆ ☆ ☆

Artukovic is now living near Long Beach, Calif., enjoying the protection of American laws, even though the Supreme Court of the United States ruled him eligible for deportation.

Artukovic also has had friendly protectors in the United States, especially Rep. James B. Utt, the extreme right-wing Republican from Santa Ana, Calif.

Representative Utt is a man who has filled the Congressional Record with diatribes against the United Nations, has introduced a bill requiring the United States to withdraw from the UN, has authored another bill to sell the postal service to private owners.

But the crowning act of Utt's irresponsibility was to introduce a bill giving U.S. citizenship to a man branded as the Adolf Eichmann of Yugoslavia. At the Eichmann trial in Tel Aviv, Alexander Arnon, a Jewish leader from Croatia, named Artukovic as Eichmann's chief henchman for the mass murders in Yugoslavia.

Artukovic was Minister of Interior for the Nazi state of Croatia, a state which tried to force Jews and Orthodox Serbs to adopt the Roman Catholic faith. But under Artukovic, excesses went to such extremes that the Catholic clergy revolted.

Strong Emotions Prohibit Fair Analysis Of Others

NEW YORK — Everybody seems to want to be a lay psychiatrist these days.

It's become great sport to "analyze" people, to judge their characters, figure out what makes them tick (or clang, as the case may be). It is not a nice trend, because the amateur analyst persists in conveying his impression to the next amateur analyst, and this way lies unfounded, potentially devastating gossip.

But since the trend is upon us, researchers have been analyzing people who analyze people, and some of their test results are these:

The happy man is the best judge of character, according to studies at the University of California. The unhappy person tends to see his own weaknesses in others. (Unfortunately, of course, it is the unhappy person who spiels his opinions.)

People tend to judge others' characters with an eye to affluence, report researchers at San Francisco State College. Thus, a wealthy person is more likely to be judged happy, healthy and well-adjusted—while a poor man appears, to the lay analyst, to be unhappy or maladjusted.

Women, says a Rutgers University professor, are better than men at the fiendish art of allegedly "sizing up" the personalities of others. Men are likely to take people at face value, while women are eager to get "underneath" the superficialties.

But neither sex—women or men—is a very good judge of a close friend, or a deadly enemy. "We have great difficulty in understanding those we strongly like," reports Dr. Verne Kallejian, psychologist, "and the same difficulty occurs with those we dislike, since we tend to see them characteristics which we like or dislike in ourselves."

So to sum up, nobody is is a good judge of the character of a person he either likes or dislikes.

He is capable only of rightly judging the character of a person in whom he is uninterested, with whom he is uninvolved emotionally.

If only "happy" people can analyze human nature correctly . . . and if even these "happy" people can look with objectivity only on those persons they neither like nor dislike . . . obviously the sport of lay psychiatry is nothing but a potentially harmful pastime indulged in by potentially gossipy people.

Let's give it up and go back to self-analysis.

If that's too depressing, there's always mah-jongg.

A letter comes from a Philadelphia mother. It's in defense of kids:

"I am sick, sore and tired of hearing of bad kids who have been helped along the way by complaining, crotchety adults. 'Go play ball somewhere else!'—Is a window really that expensive? 'Don't sit on those steps!'—Since when did cement crack? 'Get those bikes out of here!'—But why?

"These commands are harsh. Never polite. And if a child shows signs of resentment, he's called brazen. If an adult were given a direct command of this sort, without a reason, there would be a battle royal.

"Let's stop blackballing our children, and start whitewashing our hearts . . ."

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: Please tell me the importance of diet in case of a heart condition? What is cholesterol? —MRS. D. M. A.

Dr. Molner

Diet can be important in heart disease, although I doubt whether this is so in the sense that Mrs. D.M.A. expects.

There are various types of heart disease, and in some of the diet has no direct effect at all. One of these is trouble with a heart valve resulting from rheumatic fever.

To be sure, if the patient gains weight, this adds a needless burden on the heart. For such a person—and I think we can generalize and say that anyone with any kind of heart disease—getting fat is dangerous.

If high blood pressure is the basic part of the heart condition, weight reduction serves a double purpose. It not only eases the load but it often tends to lower the blood pressure, too.

Now let's go one step further: When a heart goes into failure, diet becomes extremely important. Failure does not mean that the heart stops, but that it no longer is able to pump blood efficiently enough to fulfill the body's needs adequately. Vast numbers of patients with known heart disease are not in failure.

Where failure does occur, smaller meals may be necessary because large ones require a relatively heavy flow of blood to the digestive organs. In short, spread the effort over several small meals instead of a large one.

In many of these cases, even with excellent new drugs, restriction of salt in the diet is required, because salt helps retain water in the system. Not only should table salt be avoided, but also foods that are highly seasoned with salt: prepared meats and fish, pickled things, etc.

☆ ☆ ☆

Still further, the consistency of food may have to be altered to cope with the patient's digestion and ability to eat.

Obviously we should try to achieve a balanced diet. This may be difficult with a higly restricted diet, so a supplement of mixed vitamins is required.

Cholesterol is one of a number of forms of fat appearing in the blood. Even if we ate no cholesterol in our food, our bodies would manufacture it. Rabbits manufacture it from lettuce, carrots or other cholesterol-free foods. So would we.

Eggs, cheese and milk contain cholesterol, but only a small amount of what we ingest from these foods is retained by the system. The rest is used up as energy.

Most of our blood cholesterol comes from the so-called saturated fats we eat, and this means, essentially, solid fats, as fat meat, lard, or other animal fats which are solid at room temperature.

There is evidence that blood fats have some relationship to hardening of the arteries and hence to coronary heart attacks. But they are not the sole cause. Besides, it takes years for the arteries to harden, and becoming suddenly concerned over cholesterol when a heart attack occurs is too much like locking the barn after the horse has been stolen. The damage has been done.

We have no proof that hardened arteries can be corrected by reducing blood fats. Therefore I see no prospect of benefit from suddenly trying to avoid cholesterol at this stage.

I think it logical to avoid over-indulgence in these solid (or saturated) fats under such circumstances, and in any event it will help keep our weight down, which is important.

Second, reducing saturated fats, with a corresponding increase in the "poly-unsaturated fatty acids," meaning corn, olive, safflower or other vegetable or fish oils, tends to lower the blood fats, and particularly the cholesterol in the blood. But what this will do to a damaged coronary artery is not known. Whether it helps at all, or whether ir prevents further hardening, is something we cannot say. I assume that it may retard further damage and can do no harm. In short, the poly-unsaturated fats are not in any sense "medicine."

I question whether fretting about cholesterol is of benefit to the average person. Rather, I suspect that many of us have fallen into the habit of eating more animal fats than we need — and we will do well to cut down and substitute vegetable fats. We need some fat in the diet.

When we've had a heart attack at the age of 50 or so, I suspect that it is futile to try some drastic diet, or begin eating foods that are advertised to contain a special kind of oil.

But remember that it takes years for arteries to harden, so we all might well begin being moderate (but not fanatical) at the age of 25, taking it a bit easy on the solid animal fats and learning to substitute poly-unsaturates.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Oldtime Doctor

Lincoln, Neb.

I think the doctors are doing a marvelous job, through their union, of destroying their prestige and the confidence of the public in them — prestige and confidence which took their predecessors generations to build.

The doctors have enjoyed one of the most respected and profitable positions in the community for a long time. This is due to the fact that the doctor used to treat the ill, regardless of their ability to pay. They entered the sick room to heal, not for the monetary value. They gained satisfaction from a job done to the best of their ability and the little they lost on patients who could not pay came back two-fold from others.

Now they are fighting medicare with every conceivable means to deprive the aged of a little care and comfort, for which the doctors are guaranteed a reasonable payment. What is the difference which insurance company pays them? And that is what medicare is.

Monopoly is investigated in all other enterprises. I think it is about time the Blue Cross, Blue Shield and the A.M.A. are investigated.

Tired Of Yankees

Lincoln, Neb.

I am originally from Mississippi. I have been here for approximately nine months and I can honestly say that there are a lot of hypocrites here.

When the subject comes up about segregation, they simply say, without any judgment, "those backward southerners." The only difference between the North and the South is that the South stands up for what they believe and the North does not. I do not see that the colored people have any more rights than they do in the South, with the exception of schools and theaters. If given their say-so about what course they want to take, the colored would without doubt choose segregated schools, churches, etc.

Then it is asked why they are trying to get into these institutions. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) wants the colored to have equal rights. Then why don't they let the colored decide for themselves what they want? If the truth were known about the great colored heroes such as Meredith and the Freedom Riders, it would probably be a surprise to see their bank accounts and how they helped spark their fight for their rights.

I have oftentimes heard about the terrible schools and facilities of the South. If these uninformed people could see their schools and colleges, they would really be amazed, for the best possible provisions are given to these people so they will be contented, for reasons I will not have to disclose.

I cannot blame the people for not really understanding the situation in the South. All the people know is what they read or hear. The impression they have gotten of the southerner is an old bearded, illiterate hick with a shotgun, and spitting tobacco.

In conclusion, I feel the South's rights should be considered as well as the colored in the South.

Each In Its Place

Lincoln, Neb.

This is in response to recent letters from Maxine Gottner. I do not think it is either wise or sensible for Catholics to start making unreasonable demands because we have a Catholic president. I am very much opposed to using tax money or federal aid for private or parochial schools. The public schools are for one and all. What about parochial and private schools? Who can attend them?

Furthermore, as long as we keep church and state separate, we can live in peace and harmony in this beautiful country of ours. But the minute we mix any religion with a government of free people, then we are all in serious trouble. The pilgrims gave us our religious freedom. Let's keep it that way.

It is good to have and use a Bible but let's not cover it with a flag or hide a flag in it, either. With each in its designated place, we cannot fail or weaken. With the Bible on the table and the flag flying, that is our only salvation.

Looking Inward

Bennet, Neb.

The communists call this struggle for domination "coexistence." Regardless of their terminology, we know that it is a life-and-death struggle. The stakes in this war are the highest ever known to man and while the Reds are making hay, we in America are more concerned with the World Series and other sports.

Probably if the truth were known, the riots in Mississippi would be found to be instigated by the communists. There should be a re-evaluation of St. Paul's statement that for Christ and the Christian, there can be no distinction of race and nationality among men. If colored boys don't merit a school among the white, they shouldn't rate a draft card, either.

In addition to being against the communist way of life, we must make certain that our own American way works.

Off THE RECORD — By Ed. Reed

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Spry Old-Timer Prefers Work To Inactivity

It's gratifying to encounter healthy, ambitious elders who spurn inactivity and cling to the delights of remunerative work. When I was in Wyoming a few weeks ago I found myself smitten with the breads and biscuits served at a dude ranch. They were light in texture, but had a substance and succulence suggesting solid nourishment — which is more than can be said for most commercial breads these days.

When I asked the waitress who had created these culinary masterpieces she replied, "Our baker — who's 79 years old." So I trotted out to the kitchen and was soon talking to Jeff Butler, a slim, wiry old-timer in white shirt and trousers who was busily kneading a mass of dough.

I asked how come he was still working. "Cause I like working," he replied briskly. "I'm out here summers, and winters I'm the baker at a boys' school in Colorado. I can still make good money and my skill is in demand. So why should I sit around wondering what to do with my time?" Why indeed.

At the same ranch I talked with Stanley Rinehart, son of authoress Mary Roberts Rinehart who wrote 63 books and lived to be 82. He said his mother discovered the wide open spaces when she was approaching 40 and nearly every year thereafter spent her summer vacations at Western ranches.

She loved riding and would sometimes get two or three women friends to join her on horseback and ride 18 miles from her favorite ranch into the town of Sheridan, Wyo., where they'd have dinner, spend the night, and ride back the next day. She often attributed her healthy longevity to the physical and spiritual refreshment of ranch vacations.

Although I occupied Mrs. Rinehart's former cottage at the ranch, it didn't impress my literary muse. I hoped a mantle of creativity might descend at nightfall and inspire some vivid, exciting prose. But the day's exercise and fresh air had me falling asleep an hour after supper.

Among several souvenirs which I purchased at a rustic trading post in Cody, Wyoming, was a handsome, beaded Indian belt.

When I got home I gave the belt to my son and told him it was an authentic example of craftsmanship by American Indians in the wild and wooly West. He examined it carefully and asked, "Then how come it was made in Hong Kong?"

Sure enough. Some fine print under the buckle indicated that the belt had been manufactured in the Far East — far from the Indians who had conceived the original design.

It got me to wondering what has happened to labor costs and to our initiative and our pride in heritage. It would seem someone should be smart enough to work out a manufacturing system which could compete cost-wise with the Orientals and would permit some of our impoverished Indians or our unemployed blind, handicapped and elderly to put their fingers to work and endow our Western souvenirs with authenticity of American manufacture.

If you would like a booklet "Employment Tips for Older People" write to this column c/o The Lincoln Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Plans For Beatrice Home Subject Of Student Project

The senior students of the University of Nebraska department of architecture began work Wednesday on their most recent project in redesigning a home for the mentally retarded.

The students, with their professor, Patrick Horsbrugh, spent the day at the Beatrice Home visiting with officials and touring the grounds.

The students have been given the task of adding facilities to the Beatrice Home on paper; that is, redesigning the building and grounds as if they were called upon as professionals.

Last year they chose as a subject the design of a penitentiary and studied the Nebraska State Penitentiary in Lincoln.

The young men have chosen as their "board of advisors," Carl Bostford, chief engineer for public institutions, M. E. Wyant, superintendent of the Beatrice State Home, and Dr. Cecil Wittson, director of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute.

Later in the year, a number of public juries will be held to evaluate the students' work.

Finally Caught

Ile de Re, France (AP)—Billy the Puma escaped from a circus in August and to the delight of tourism promoters became the object of big game hunts that led to picture postcards in his honor and flocks of tourists. Billy was cornered this week while munching a raw rabbit in a farm toolhouse and held at bay until his trainer noosed him with a long pole trap.

Guilty Plea Given By Student Robber

Robert L. Spore of Lexington, charged with robbing a Lincoln liquor store Sept. 11, pleaded guilty Wednesday in Lancaster District Court.

District Judge Elmer Scheele deferred sentencing the 20-year-old former University of Nebraska student, pending pre-sentence investigation.

Spore was arrested two blocks away about 9 minutes after holding up the N Street Liquor Store at 18th and N.

A loaded .22 caliber pistol and a sack containing the stolen $153.15 were found in his automobile, according to police.

Conrad Nelson, the liquor store clerk, identified Spore as the man who committed the Sept. 11 robbery and also one in July when $337 was taken.

Police reported that Spore also has admitted robbing Les' Texaco Station at 16th and Q of $74 in July.

Conviction of robbery carries a penalty of up to 50 years imprisonment.

Sidney Woman Re-Elected Head Of Lutheran League

Mrs. Rudy Munderloh of Sidney was re-elected president of the Southern Nebraska District of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League Wednesday.

Also elected for the upcoming two-year term were Mrs. F. C. Keuck, of Cheyenne, Wyo., second vice president; Mrs. Irving Holtzen of Hastings, Mrs. Munderloh recording secretary; and Mrs. Chester J. Aden of Chappell, treasurer.

The Rev. C. Thomas Spitz Jr., director of broadcasting for the Lutheran Hour, addressed the 800 members about extending and helping the missions of North and South America.

The chief item on the business agenda was the distributing of $13,000 to missions of the Southeast Nebraska District. The missions to receive $1,500 each are the Saratoga, Wyo. Mission; the New Guinea Mission; the Dakota Boys Ranch, Minot, N.D.; the Lincoln Student Center; the Missions project catalogue; and the survey and study of needs of retarded and handicapped children.

Teamsters Local To Dispute Vote Rejecting Union

Teamsters will file objections to their rejection as bargaining agents by an election Wednesday of Ready-Mix Concrete Co. employes.

Dale Peate, spokesman for the Teamsters Union Local 608, told The Star that company employes voted 45 to 14 not to be represented by the union.

He declined to elaborate on the nature of the objections to be filed with the National Labor Relations Board.

The concrete firm is a division of the Abel Investment Co. of Lincoln.

Wind Forces Pilot To 'Fly' In One Place

Eugene, Ore. (AP) — Charlie Holcomb flew a plane for nearly 3 hours Friday without leaving the runway.

He told Wednesday about his strange experience in the violent windstorm which raked the West Coast last week.

Holcomb landed a $130,000 twin-engine Aero-Commander at Eugene's municipal airport at the height of the storm. The wind speed was 85 miles an hour and Holcomb said he knew he could not cut the engines and tie the plane down. All he could do was keep the propellers whirling, the nose down and the plane headed into the wind.

"I kept the nosegear touching the runway all right," he said, "but most of the time the other two wheels were up in the air."

"As long as it was daylight I used a puddle of water to see which way the wind was turning," he said, "but when it grew dark I just felt my way."

Finally, after two hours and 45 minutes, the wind let up, Holcomb managed to taxi into a hangar, and cut the engines.

Karl Burley, chief of the FFA flight service station at the airport, confirmed Holcomb's story. The plane is owned by United States Plywood Corp.

Cunningham 13-Time Winner

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Easy-talking, chain-smoking Glenn Cunningham — senior member of Nebraska's reduced delegation in the House of Representatives — has made a habit of victory.

The 3-term Second District Republican congressman has entered 13 Omaha-area election campaigns and won them all.

An exceptionally tardy congressional adjournment this fall has given him a mere 3 weeks to prepare for his 14th test at the polls — but Cunningham is confident that it will be enough time.

REP. GLENN CUNNINGHAM

The 50-year-old former nonpartisan mayor (1948-54) has built a reputation in Omaha for independence, an invaluable political asset for a Republican seeking election in Democratic-dominated Douglas County.

Douglas holds a tight grip on 85% of the 4-county district vote.

'Two Issues'

In his brief campaign against hard-driving Democrat Tom Bonner, Cunningham insists that there are really only two issues.

"Who, by training, background and experience, is best qualified to represent the Second District?" Cunningham asks voters.

"And what is the philsopohy of government of each candidate?"

Cunningham can point to 3 House terms, 6 years as mayor, a stint as fire commissioner and membership on the Omaha Board of Education, in all 26 years of civic and governmental experience.

Bonner, he notes, is "a relative newcomer" who has never held public office. "He is untried," the congressman suggests.

Cunningham can also recall that he was born in South Omaha, a politically providential birthplace in the heart of the stronghold of Democratic-oriented organized labor. Bonner was born in New York, the congressman reminds Second District voters.

'Philosophy Important'

"The philosophy of each candidate is all-important," Cunningham declares, "because, when he is elected, his philosophy will determine how he will vote on legislation in the next Congress."

Cunningham has constructed a conservative record of economy and proudly points to 97% attendance in his 6 years in the House.

His record, he tells the electorate, also displays a devotion to individual freedoms, less government control, less concentration of federal power and "an understanding of the communist conspiracy."

It was Cunningham's amendment to block the free distribution of communist propaganda which placed him in the glare of national publicity this session.

Coffees, Conferences

On a typical day of this abbreviated campaign, you will find Cunningham beginning a round of 3 widely-separated Omaha coffee gatherings at 9 a.m., concluding the morning at a conference with small meat packers in South Omaha.

He moves on to Millard for two afternoon coffees, stopping off at the huge Western Electric plant later for some vigorous hand-shaking.

By 7 p.m., he's back in Omaha to meet with representatives of 3 civic groups, then speaks to an 11th Ward GOP gathering in Benson before finishing the long day with a rally of his own volunteers in the 8th Ward of near southwest Omaha.

Ten thousand bumper stickers—the most he has ever used—carry the candidate's name through every street, highway and county road in the district.

His campaign cards suggest: "Vote for a record. . . not a promise."

'My Dad Says . . .'

A new gimmick has also been added: headbands with feathers for the kids, and a written message—"My Dad (Mom too) says, Cunningham for Congress."

The congressman has carefully built his 12,000-vote freshman victory of 6 years ago steadily up to a 50,000-ballot avalanche in 1960.

Although he lost organized labor's official endorsement this fall for the first time since 1956, he is counting on his normal support from friends in South Omaha's burgeoning work force.

Thus, the only really new thing about Glenn Cunningham's 1962 campaign in its enforced brevity.

As usual, the last day or so before voters troop to the polls, Cunningham will drop by the fire stations to talk with the men he has known since his days as fire commissioner.

And he will pay his customary sentimental call on St. Catherine's Hospital — where his 6 kids were born.

Girls Apply For Worlds Fair Job

Three Omaha girls have already applied to Gov. Frank Morrison to be hostesses at the Nebraska exhibit at the New York Worlds Fair in 1964.

They are Carol Kontor, 19, a student at Creighton University; Barbara Parks, 19, a student at Duchesne College, and Marijane Lynch, age not given, a student at Marquette University.

Two of them, Misses Kontor and Parks, drove to Lincoln recently to apply for the jobs.

"While there is no immediate machinery to process applications for these jobs, I can assure these girls that their names will be given first consideration," the governor said.

August Retail Sales Up 5% Over '61

Nebraska retail sales in August shot up 5.1% above last year and 4.5% higher than the preceding month.

The October issue of Business in Nebraska, prepared by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Nebraska, reported that variety and farm equipment stores showed the largest increases, up 18.9% and 17.8% respectively.

The city business index—composed of bank debits, building activities, retail sales, electricity and gas consumed, water pumped, postal receipts, and news advertising—showed a 5.5% increase over a year ago.

Those cities showing increases in the August city index, are: Falls City, up 11.6 per cent; York, 10.0; Norfolk, 9.7; Grand Island, 7.6; Alliance, 7.0; North Platte, 6.9;

Polling Places In Hitchcock Cut To 4

Trenton (AP) — Hitchcock County is going to make a sizeable saving in the cost for the Nov. 6 general election; instead of having 20 polling places there will be just 4.

Devonnabelle Reynolds, Hitchcock County clerk, said this system was tried two years ago on a hospital bond issue and it worked very well, but the county board was a little reluctant to adopt the system until after taking one more look at the old way.

Following the May primary, however, the number of voting precincts to 4-one in each of the 4 larger towns. These are Culbertson, Palisade, Trenton and Stratton, which already number about half the county's total population of 4,829.

The county clerk says a saving of about $4,000 each election is expected as a result of cutting down the number of voting precincts.

Finalists Tabbed

Beatrice — Homecoming queen and escort finalists for Beatrice High School have been selected. Royalty will be crowned at the Friday night football game. Queen finalists are Sheri Dahlin, Sandy Day, Sue Elliott, Carol Totten and Pam Wieck. Selected as escorts are Don Roberts, Richard Gartner, Bob Fulton, Don Carson and Ric Hamer.

Rep. Utt Says JFK Is Compulsive Liar

La Jolla, Calif. (AP)—A campaigning Republican Congressman says of President Kennedy: "I think he is a compulsive liar, at least a pathological liar."

James B. Utt of Santa Ana, Calif., told a "For America" group in a speech that he believes the President has lied about the Cubnn situation.

This, Utt said, was in a recent Ohio speech in which he said the President told his audience that Castro's Cuban government was desperate because of a breakdown in the country's economy.

In the same speech, he added, Kennedy lied by saying that this nation's international situation has improved under his administration.

Utt said: "Somebody has to call him. I'm going to act as an American whether or not I become the second political prisoner, after former Gen. Edwin Walker."

He was referring to the former Army general who has been charged with insurrection for his part in the University of Mississippi turmoil over admission of a Negro student.

REP. JAMES B. UTT

Utt said it was "trigger-happy" United States marshals who started the campus rioting. "Then," he added, "they threw a great general in jail."

The Congressman said he had information that the Russians, within the last two weeks, have unloaded in Cuba a 1,700-mile ballistic missile.

"And," he added, "the tantrum kid in the White House doesn't do anything about it."

CLOUDS BLOCK BALLOON SHOT

White Sands Missile Range, N.M. (AP) — A heavy cloud cover forced postponement again Wednesday of an Echo balloon launch at the missile range.

The first attempt was postponed because of the weather.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said a date for rescheduling the flight has not been selected but that the launch probably will not be attempted before Friday.

The 100-foot diameter plastic-aluminum skin balloon, a duplicate of the Echo I satellite orbiting the earth, will be filled with helium and set adrift over the 4,000 square mile range.

Three Dams Are To Get Spring Start

The Salt-Wahoo Watershed District board Wednesday was advised that construction on 3 more Corps of Engineer dams will be ready to start next spring.

Norman Gau, Omaha District engineer, said these are Dam 2 near Kramer, Dam 9 near Kramer, and Dam 12 near Denton.

Design and cost estimates on these dams are being reviewed in Washington, he said. Land acquisition for Dam 2 is ready to start and Dam 9 is almost ready.

Gau said test borings on the Dam 14 site near Emerald show a satisfactory foundation and design work will proceed.

He said plans for Dam 11, also near Denton, are being reviewed in Washington, but are being held up on soil-bearing problems.

Some channel work on the Salt Creek in the Lincoln area may get underway by fall 1963, the engineer reported.

Congress recently approved a $2.3 million appropriation bill for dam and channel work in the Salt-Wahoo District.

Hal Schroeder, district general manager, reported Dams 4 and 8 in the Sprague-Hickman area are complete except for seeding and recording stations.

Earth-moving work on the Antelope Creek Dam near Lincoln will be completed within a week, leaving only finishing up work and seeding, he said.

The board ratified a right-of-entry agreement with the state highway department for Cornhusker Highway widening construction near Salt Creek.

The board also planned an air tour of dam construction and other soil-water conservation projects in the Salt-Wahoo District in connection with its November meeting.

SAFETY LAWS CONFERENCE IS RECOMMENDED

The Legislative Committee of the Nebraska Safety Council Wednesday voted to recommend that a conference on safety legislation be held in Lincoln Nov. 14.

The committee said the recommendations will be placed before Gov. Frank Morrison with the request that representatives of judicial, legal and law-enforcement bodies be invited to obtain suggestions on legislative changes or improvements in the field of traffic accident prevention and control.

It is contemplated that if legislative proposals are developed which have widespread support, the Safety Council would then conduct a series of meetings across the state in January to develop an understanding of the proposals, the committee said.

As noted before (alackaday!), California now approaches the day of glory: more people than any State of the Nation; more highways; more cars; and more drivers ground to chrome-plated crashing glory than anybody.

The mind boggles at such superiority — at least mine does. My mind has been boggling a lot lately. But not so much that I think San Francisco is the last outpost of ungrowing calm.

San Francisco, by heaven, is getting smaller. The last census showed fewer people. And if all this startling growth bugs you, this is your sanctuary.

☆ ☆ ☆

Matter of fact, I can't see much change in this excellent city over many a journalistic year.

Fortunately, the city CAN'T grow any bigger than its 44 square miles (vs. Los Angeles' 404) — since it tips a peninsula.

All it can do is grow upward. Which it does. And San Franciscans move into the fruit tree suburbs. Which they do.

This leaves the city itself wide open for day and night activities.

I don't know any other town that would carpet a former bawdy house district, Maiden Lane, with 50,000 orchids and turn out a streetful of Hawaiian guitar players.

For what? Just for Jim MacKenzie, the Mayor of Waikiki — who isn't really a Mayor at all but sort of an inofficial greeter from the coco palm islands.

☆ ☆ ☆

No, nothing much has changed in this town which grew up in the Gold Rush days and just isn't going to grow any more.

(After sharpening a tooth for 8 months in England, I went to North Beach last night and loaded up on Lupo's pizzas. A child could play with me, I am that content.)

The menu hasn't changed at Jack's in the memory of man.

Lou Lurie has the same table. "Jake the Master" Ehrlich has the inside track table at the Palace.

Yamato's has the best Japanese yakitori this side of the Ginza.

The best sports writing is scribbled on notes at Sam's Lane Club.

The Chinese still call the town Gold Hill. And if you order chop suey, you're really a stranger, stranger.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, bless your hearts, we all have to progress. And progress is getting bigger and bigger and BIGGER.

This seemed like a fabulously good idea in the Elegant Eighties. When the land and silver and railroad barons were drooling over importer terrapin Maryland and cutting the State up 10 ways from Sunday.

The cut-rate fare in those unpopulated days got down to $1—Kansas City to Los Angeles.

Now the jets bring in new residents at a thousand-a-day clip.

The fruit orchards are chopped down for tract homes. And we're all bound for glory, glory be.

☆ ☆ ☆

Anyway, it's a fine thing to walk the foggy, night streets of San Francisco. Smelling the fresh French bread smells coming up from the bakery cellar. To buy groceries in an Italian store that pants with garlicky salami. To listen to jazz rolling out of a doorway on the old Barbary Coast.

And to know it isn't growing beyond the horizon of your heart.

Johnson Will Stump For State Democrats

Vice President Lyndon Johnson will campaign in Omaha Thursday in behalf of Nebraska Democrats, particularly Second District Congressional nominee Thomas Bonner.

Johnson will travel in an open-car motorcade from Eppley Airfield downtown for a brief public address, then visit an industrial plant before leaving for a campaign appearance in Cheyenne.

Gov. Frank Morrison will not be on hand to greet the vice president.

Morrison said that while he is "very happy" that Johnson is visiting Nebraska, he must keep previous commitments in Scottsbluff.

Calendar Shows

The governor's calendar shows he is scheduled to participate in a morning radio show and television show prior to addressing the Scottsbluff Kiwanis Club at noon.

Johnson will arrive at Eppley field by chartered plane from Kansas City at 9:30 a.m. Mayor James Dworak will greet the vice president in brief ceremonies.

Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle, Bonner and his wife will ride with the vice president in a 16-car motor caravan through downtown Omaha to the Paxton Hotel where Johnson will speak.

Boyle will preside at the meeting scheduled for the hotel ballroom.

Bonner, who opposes Republican Rep. Glenn Cunningham, will introduce Johnson. The vice president is expected to speak for about 25 minutes.

Johnson is slated to leave Omaha at 11 a.m.

To Get Commission

State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan will represent Morrison and present the vice president with an admiral's commission in the Nebraska Navy.

The governor said it is his "deep conviction . . . that the people who live in the State of Nebraska are familiar with Nebraska problems and the present program of their state administration, and should be allowed to make their own decisions with reference to their own choice for governor."

Morrison said, however, "I see nothing wrong with outsiders of both parties coming to the state to discuss questions of party legislative policy at the national level."

Democrat Claims Beermann Won't Face The Issues

Ralph Cole of Lincoln, executive director of the Callan for Congress Committee, Wednesday declared that Republican Rep. Ralph Beermann "simply will not face the issues."

Cole commented on statements made by Beermann at a fund-raising dinner in Lincoln.

"In a weak attempt to justify his opposition to the school lunch program, Mr. Beermann voices objections to 'additional power for the secretary of agriculture to buy any commodity whether it is surplus or not,'" Cole said.

"Yet, only a few weeks ago, he openly stated his opposition to 'this type of program' and questioned its constitutionality."

Beermann is opposed for the First District Congressional seat by Democratic nominee Clair Callan.

Duxbury, Warner To Give Positions, Answer Questions

Richard Duxbury and Jerome Warner, 18th Legislative District candidates, will answer voters' questions and state their platforms at 7:30 p.m. at the Nebraska Union of the University of Nebraska.

The meeting, sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary, will provide a 15-minute discussion and question period for each candidate.

Three adjoining rooms holding about 170 persons have been reserved on the second floor, the PSA spokesman said.

Hoover: Reds Trying To Look Free

Washington (AP)—The U.S. Communist Party has embarked on a campaign to create a new image of itself as a liberal political faction free of foreign control, the FBI said Wednesday.

But this "denial of subservience to the Soviet Union . . . was clearly branded as ridiculous" by the attendance of several U.S. party officials as delegates to the International Communist Party Congress in Russia last year, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover added in his annual report.

In a section headed "protecting democracy," Hoover said:

"Probably more Americans saw and heard the self avowed members of the Communist Party, USA, in fiscal year 1962 than in the preceding 10 years. Unquestionably the party unleashed one of the most intensive propaganda campaigns in its history."

Hoover said the cause of "the sudden torrent of communist lies," was the June, 1961, Supreme Court ruling that the U.S. Communist Party is directed and controlled by the Soviet Union and that the party must therefore register with the attorney general under the 1950 Internal Security Act.

"The prime objective of all the public activity on the part of the communist leaders was to create the new image for the party—an image which connotes respectability, legitamacy, as a liberal political faction and freedom from foreign dictates," he said.

The FBI director said last fiscal year brought a great increase in the investigative demands on the FBI, much of it resulting from new legislation aimed at interstate organized crime.

Red Clover Seed Production Rises

Production of red clover seed in Nebraska this year is estimated at 1,050,000 pounds up slightly from last year's 980,000 pounds, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Wednesday.

An increase in acreage from 14,000 last year to 15,000 this year accounts for the gain. The indicated yield of 70 pounds of clean seed per acre is the same as last year but far above the 10-year average yield of 46 pounds.

First Lady's Dish Lacks 'Something'

Washington (AP)—One of Mrs. John F. Kennedy's White House recipes, featured in a newsy celebrity cookbook published Wednesday by the Women's National Press Club, just lacks something.

There's no cooking time indicated.

As any amateur chef knows, that's kind of essential. Even for Mrs. Kennedy's "poulet a l'estragon"—a fancy chicken and wine dish.

The cookbook editors, including newspaper food editor consultant, quickly admitted the editorial oversight in their publication "Second Helping".

Have To Check

Miss Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary who sent in the recipe, conceded "there certainly should be a cooking time. I'll have to check."

Later, she suggested the ladies of the press — who have been proclaiming their culinary talents with this publication — just add the line she left out: "Cook until done."

"You're supposed to know, if you're a good cook," she opined.

Another Version

It turns out there's another "classic" version from Mrs. Kennedy's "Georgetown cardfile" (used in her home before she moved to the White House). This one, not sent to the Press Club cookbook editors "is Mrs. Kennedy's own," and Miss Turnure said, "it's a little more specific."

Chagrined editors, who put out the 171-page book with recipes from the White House, cabinet, Capitol Hill and women reporters' own prized collections, admitted they hadn't expected a White House blooper.

"We proof read it against original copy—not for content," one admitted.

Miss Turnure was chagrined, too, and promptly offered to consult the renowned chef Verdon to correct the error.

Book Is Out

But, the book is out now. The best that can be hoped for is that its purchasers are the good cooks Miss Turnure expects them to be and they'll know enough to keep right on simmering "until done."

Besides, there are a lot of other recipes to try out, including favorites of President Kennedy (a beef stroganoff), a down-to-earth "ham loaf" that appeals to astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., and a specialty from the world traveling Supreme Court Justice, William O. Douglas. This is dry, mealy trout cooked on a flat rock on an open fire.

Foods in the cookbook range from intime recipes like "clam stew for two" from Mrs. John W. McCormack, wife of the House speaker, to the barbecue for 3,000 that Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., dispenses at his annual fall picnic in the apple orchard near his Berryvulle, Va., home. It only takes 1,500 chickens.

Her Favorite

In case you want to try Mrs. Kennedy's menu favorite, here's that "poulet a l'estragon.":

1 chicken, 3 pounds.
Clerified butter for sauteeing
2 or 3 shallots
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup dry white wine
½ cup stock
1 pinch thyme
2 stems parsley
1 bunch fresh tarragon
1 bay leaf

Cut chicken into 8 or 10 pieces. Season with salt and pepper. Brown on all sides in hot clarified butter. Cut shallots very fine and spread over chicken. Simmer for a few minutes. Sprinkle above mixture with flour. Add wine and stock and the bouquet of herbs, using the stem only of the tarragon and saving the tarragon leaves. Chop the tarragon leaves and spread over chicken before serving. Simmer until done.

NOT WHAT IT SEEMS

Lulu, right, 17-month-old chimpanzee, hasn't bitten off the hand that fed her. It's only a glove dropped by a visitor into the cage she shares with Tomoka, left, a 13-month-old gorilla in Washington's National Zoological Park.

Red Visits India

New Delhi (UPI) — Communist Romanian President Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej arrived here for a state visit.

Black Muslim Says 'God Caused Air Crash'

Buffalo, N.Y. (UPI) — A Black Muslim leader testified Wednesday he felt God caused an airliner crash in Paris last summer to punish the white man for shooting 7 members of the Negro sect during a Los Angeles riot a week earlier.

Malcolm X, No. 2 man in the black supremacy organization, was called to testify in federal court by attorneys for 5 Negro inmates of Attica State Prison who claim their constitutional rights are violated by discrimination against their faith.

He was asked about a statement attributed to him in which he described the death of 130 persons—114 of them from Atlanta, Ga., in a June 3 plane crash in Paris as "a beautiful thing."

Malcolm X, leader of Black Muslims in New York City, said his statement was taken out of context. He said he had been referring to a religious feeling that God would rectify the injustice done to 7 Negroes who had been shot, one fatally, in Los Angeles the night of April 27.

"I felt religiously that the white people who condoned this injustice (the Los Angeles riot) would suffer disaster at the hands of God," he testified.

Earlier, the 37-year-old Muslim leader had testified that his Negro supremacy group was not a hate organization.

The state commissioner of corrections, Paul D. McGinnis has labeled the Black Muslims a "hate" group. That charge was reiterated in court by State Assistant Atty. Gen. William Bresnihan.

Answering Bresnihan's assertion, Malcolm X testified that Black Muslim leader "Elijah Mohammed never taught us to hate anyone."

Police Apprehend Third Member Of Traveling Group

Police Wednesday apprehended the missing member of a trio involved with a series of grocery store thefts from here to Chicago, reports said.

Patrolman Dale Wolf arrested a 20-year-old man as he was eating in Walgreens drugstore, 13th and O, Wednesday morning.

All 3—the 20-year-old, a woman and the woman's 16-year-old brother—were first picked up Tuesday night when a clerk in Terminal Drug at 10th and O reported seeing the woman shoplift a bottle of cough syrup containing codeine. Only the woman was held.

Later the 16-year-old was arrested after the pair had tried to steal money from a cash register in Kushner's Shur Save grocery at 1733 O. The other youth was the object of an all-night search by police.

Seaton Gives Priority To Beefing Up Patrol

Republican gubernatorial nominee Fred Seaton Wednesday declared that, if he is elected, "one of my first jobs" will be a legislative request to add 80 troopers to the State Safety Patrol.

"I will go before the legislature to request, to urge and — if necessary — to respectfully demand" the increase in highway patrol strength, Seaton told a noon luncheon sponsored by the Lancaster County Republican Women's Club.

"Of course, it will cost money," Seaton said.

"But how much is a human life worth?"

Seaton termed the 80-trooper hike requested by Col. C. J. Sanders "the real short-term answer" to this year's record-breaking highway slaughter.

Taking note of the fact that Vice President Lyndon Johnson will campaign in Omaha Thursday in behalf of Democratic nominees, Seaton said he "welcome(s) him."

In fact, he pointed out, "I only hope they bring in the 4-star team, namely President John F. Kennedy, before this is over."

Earlier, Sen. Roman Hruska warned Republican women that Lancaster and Douglas Counties will be the "two big battlegrounds" in the gubernatorial election.

Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison "has done well" in the past in Lincoln, Hruska cautioned, and "he has been campaigning for 3 years."

Catching Up

Seaton has been faced with "a lot of catching up," Hruska declared.

Outstate, the Senator noted, "you can detect in the air that things are starting to jell . . . and there is every favorable indication that Fred Seaton will be elected by a heavy majority."

Seaton assured the partisan audience that "I am not in favor of tearing up the Republican platform even though he (Morrison) tore up the Democratic platform which he helped write in Omaha."

The Hastings publisher briefly outlined his stand in support of the "best university in the Midwest," acceleration of the Interstate Highway construction program and conversion of additional roads to dustless surfaces, and his proposals for government modernization.

He promised to run "a taut ship" economically and urged swifter industrial development as "a means of holding our young" and opening the door to future progress.

Seaton At Breakfast

The Lancaster County Republican's Men's club will hold a breakfast in honor of Republican gubernatorial candidate Fred Seaton at 7:30 a.m. Thursday at the Lincoln Hotel.

Cheating By Pilots Denied

Washington (UPI) — The president of the Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA) Wednesday denied charges that Eastern Air Line pilots had to cheat to pass flight engineer tests.

The accusation was made by president Ron Brown of the flight engineers union. Brown said Eastern pilots taking flight engineer qualification examinations "cribbed" on the tests and were given the answers in advance.

ALPA President Charles H. Ruby called the charges "irresponsible." He said almost any pilot should find it easy to pass a flight engineer's examination because he already knows most of the information in order to hold his pilot's certificate.

The cribbing allegation came in answer to a news conference remark by Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby that more pilots were passing special FAA flight engineer tests than the engineers themselves.

Ruby, in a statement issued here, said he was not surprised.

Yale Students Boo Kennedy

New Haven, Conn. (AP) — President Kennedy cut a 60-mile campaign swath into industrial Connecticut Wednesday, pounding hard on his theme that America needs Democrats in Congress in order to move ahead and not sit still.

Tens of thousands of people turned out and gave him a noisy, lively welcome in normally Democratic territory.

He wound up the trip in New Haven with a big rally —and immediatel heard boos from some Yale students.

Loud boos greeted him at the start of his short speech and sounded from time to time during his talk. Cheers overshadowed the boos.

Kennedy took all this good-naturedly, and even referred to himself as a Yale man on one occasion. But he told the crowd, as he had throughout this campaign, that he must have a strongly Democratic Congress if he is to get his program though in the next two years.

Less than 7 hours from the time he left Washington, Kennedy was back in the capital. His propeller-driven plane touched down at Washington's national airport at 8:01 p.m. CST. He was met at the airport by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, and they rode together in an automobile on the trip from the airport to the White House.

Possibly stronger than at any other time, Kennedy lit into the Republicans, branding them as enemies of progress.

Booing

While the students continued booing occasionally, Kennedy kept insisting that only the Democrats stood for advancement in these times.

Kennedy failed, however, to make an expected counterattack at any point to the recent criticism by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower of his foreign policies in Boston Monday night.

Instead, Kennedy aimed his fire at Republicans in Congress.

The Democrats, he said, are a party "that recognizes the challenge of our times and is willing to do something about it."

Sits Still

"If the House and Senate are controlled by those who wish to sit still," he said, "if they are controlled by a coalition of Republicans and Democrats who are opposed to progress, then this country sits still."

In his 3 speeches in the state, Kennedy banged away on the contention he already has carried into 9 other states. Only the setting was different, and the plugs for specific candidates.

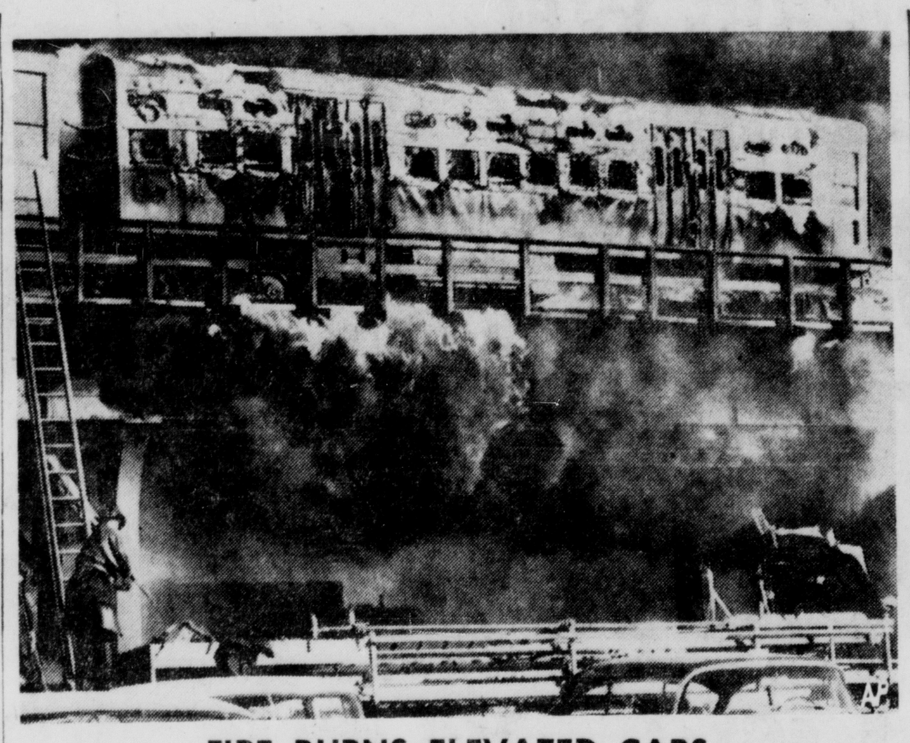

His claim to being a Yale man was a reference to the honorary degree he received from the university last June. This honor prompted Harvard-educated Kennedy to joke with the New Haven crowd that he was happy to be back at "my college."

Boost Abe

He came to Connecticut to boost the campaigns of his former welfare secretary, Abraham Ribicoff, who is running for the U.S. Senate, and of other Democratic candidates.

Ribicoff and Gov. John N. Dempsey were among Kennedy's welcomers at Bridgeport Airport in Stratford — along with an estimated 6,000 to 10,000 others.

"I come back here in 1962 to ask you to help us meet the responsibilities that are so incumbent upon us to help us move ahead," Kennedy told the airport crowd.

FIRE BURNS ELEVATED CARS

A fire started on a wooden elevated structure at 35th and State Street in Chicago late Wednesday consumes the first car of a train. Passengers had hastily been removed to cars further to the rear of the train and no serious injuries were reported. Service on the main line was halted as nearly 1,000 feet of track was destroyed.

State Handles $442 Million

A total of $442,681,851 was received in the cash account of the State Treasurer's Office during the two fiscal years from July 1, 1960, to June 30, 1962, and $438,469,752 was expended, State Treasurer C. L. E. Swanson disclosed Wednesday in his biennial report.

The resulting balance, coupled with the carryover of $41,329,271 at the beginning of this two-year period, left the state with a total of $45,541,370 cash on hand at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962.

A breakdown of the $45 million shows $19,075,334 deposited in banks; $26.5 million invested in U.S. Securities; cash items of $4,184, and accrued interest of $23,663, less a discount of $61,812.

The amount of money reported in the state's bond and premium account grew from $52,545,818 in permanent trust funds at the beginning of the two-year period to $60,647,739 by June 30, 1962.

It was also noted by the treasurer that since the state began investing idle funds in U.S. Securities in 1959, a total of $2,249,993 has been collected in interest and deposited in the state's general fund.

"The maximum amount invested at any one time during the past (4) fiscal years was $26,500,000," Swanson said, adding, "In the meantime, sufficient funds were kept on hand at all times to meet all obligations."

He also said that the amount of idle funds invested since June 30 has grown another million to a total of $27.5 million.

Included in the various breakdowns in the biennial report was the amount of gasoline tax funds distributed to the counties during the past two fiscal years — $18,443,990 for maintenance of county roads, and $11,576,244 for rural and star mail routes.

Mrs. Kennedy Receives Citation For Aiding Arts

New York (AP)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy received a citation Wednesday from the New York University Institute of Fine Arts for her "genuine concern for the fine arts and our American artistic inheritance."

The citation also noted her efforts in adding art works to the White House and said that "in so doing she has opened the eyes of the nation as a whole to its artistic achievements and awakened pride in them."

The citation was presented by Dr. James B. Hester, NYU president. An informal reception, closed to the press, followed the presentation.

Mrs. Kennedy's arrival drew "ohs" and "ahs" from about 150 spectators.

She wore a double-breasted black wool suit, pearl earrings, white opera-length gloves and black shoes. A black velvet doll-sized hat perched at the back of her combination French roll-bouffant hairdo.

A university spokesman said Mrs. Kennedy did not make a statement in accepting the citation.

She spent about 25 minutes looking at drawings from the collection of Curtis O. Baer, then went to the basement of the institute to look at the conservation center, which teaches restoration and preservation of works of art.

A spokesman said Mrs. Kennedy particularly admired a drawing by Agostino Carracci, an Italian painter of the 16th century.

She left the institute to visit the art collection of Robert Lehman, an investment banker, on West 54th Street.

Callan Will Address NU Young Democrats

Democratic Congressional candidate Clair Callan will address the University of Nebraska Young Democrats at 7 p.m. Thursday in Room 240, Nebraska Union.

Callan, opposing Republican Ralph Beerman in the First District, is expected to tell the YDs his basic political position, YD President Gary Thompson said.

Duchess Would Surrender Argyll Family Heirlooms

London (AP)— The Duchess of Argyll volunteered to give up Argyll family heirlooms which her estranged husband seeks to recover.

On the secone day of a high court hearing, the duchess' lawyers said she had decided not to prolong the trial.

At the opening of the hearing, the Duke said family heirlooms held by the Duchess were not really hers. He and 4 other trustees of the late 10th Duke of Argyll took out an injunction to restrain the Duchess from selling any of them.

The Duke's lawyers valued the heirlooms at $70,000.

Married in 1951, the Duke and Duchess are suing one another for divorce.

Albion Applies For Funds

The city of Albion has met the application deadline for 50 per cent federal backing for construction of sewage treatment projects.

T. A. Filipi, director of the State Health Department's Environmental Health Services Division, said Albion officials submitted the application Wednesday. He will now forward it to the U.S. Public Health Department in Washington.

Filipi announced Monday that Albion was a "possibility" to receive the federal funds, but so far it is the only city that has filed an application with the State Health Department.

The deadline is Friday.

Filipi listed Gibbon, Loup City, Genoa, St. Edward and Fullerton as communities that assured him they would submit their applications before Friday.

If Albion's application is accepted, the city will receive 30 per cent federal backing under public law 660 and 20 per cent backing under the president's accelerated public works program for construction of a sewage treatment facility in that city.

Camp Fire Officers

The Lincoln Camp Fire Girls organization introduced new staff members on Wednesday afternoon at an open house held in the group's new offices in the Lincoln YWCA building.

From the left are Mrs. Toxie M. Greer, director of District I and junior high activities; Mrs. Chic Otto, vice president of the Camp Fire Girls board; and Mrs. Harry Gaylor, director of District III and Horizon Club activities. Not pictured is the new regional field advisor for Region VII, Miss Frances Cheadle.

Entertained Extension Club

Mrs. Vernon Allen was hostess to the UNI Extension Club at the group's monthly meeting. The program on Christmas Crafts was presented by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. V. Sobotka, and the members voted to contribute to a memorial for the Schmidt family.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 8 at the home of Mrs. Harold Clark.

AROUND THE TOWN

There are nice things to talk about this morning — parties, guests, and events of the past—and the future.

There is a Holiday Club party coming up —It will be a dinner dance at the Lincoln Country Club on Saturday evening, Oct. 27. Planning the affair is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Reed, chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wake of Seward, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Pegler.

Two names have been added to the Holiday roster this season and the two new member couples, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Lantz and Mr. and Mrs. Tippy Dye.

* * *

The approaching weekend is not to go begging as far as fun activity is concerned. We hear that Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ames and Adam Breckenridge have joined forces for a party on Sunday afternoon. A small group of guests has been invited, and accompanying each invitation was a map giving detailed information as to how to find the party rendezvous which, by the way, is in the Ashland vicinity.

* * *

Judging from what we have been hearing the Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae are exceedingly busy this week. Lst night the alumnae celebrated Founders Day by entertaining the sorority's new pledges at dinner at the home of Mrs. A. L. Ninier.

Today the KKG alumnae will be out and about again when they, and their guests, entertain at the sorority's annual Candlelight Tea. This is Kappa Kappa Gamma's fund raising project from which all proceeds go to the Nebraska chapter's philanthropy —the TB ward at the State Hospital.

* * *

Back to the weekend of Oct. 26—it is on Friday, Oct. 26 that George Yates of Carmel, Calif., is expected to arrive in Lincoln for a weekend visit with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burnham Yates.

* * *

We have a guest-traveler combination to mention this morning, too. Mrs. R. O. Reddish came from Alliance about 10 days ago for a very special purpose — the christening of her great-granddaughter, Deborah Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Walker.

The christening took place on last Friday afternoon at St. Matthews Church, Episcopal, and was followed by a family dinner at the home of the young Deborah's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walt.

Also in town for the christening and the family festivities were Mrs. Walt's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reddish and their two daughters, Anne and Tibby, also of Alliance.

On Sunday Mrs. Reddish, who spent last week as the guest of her granddaughter, Mrs. Walker, and Mr. Walker, and who is the guest this week of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walt, will leave on Sunday for New York City.

* * *

This weekend will find many Lincoln people in Omaha attending the Ak-Sar-Ben coronation on Friday evening, and the Coronation ball on Saturday evening. The Lincoln countesses, as you already know, are Miss Kit Stuart, Miss Jean Morrison and Miss Sue Hardin.

Voters League Study Groups

Study units of the League of Women Voters of Lincoln will meet next Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock as follows: A Street unit, Mrs. W. C. Boucher, 4430 A; Eastridge unit, Mrs. LaVell Swarts, 6230 Sunrise Rd.; Prescott-North unit, Mrs. Harold De Graw, 2905 S; Prescott-South unit, Mrs. Robert Ficke, 2440 So. 36th; Southeast unit, Mrs. Alan Bates, 4011 So. 40th; Northeast unit, Mrs. Richard Trickey, 4926 Leighton.

The First Federal unit will meet at 1:30 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, at 1235 N.

Meeting at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening will be the Park Manor evening unit. Mrs. Lloyd Hinkley, 5830 Earl, will be hostess.

Opening lead — ten of clubs.

This hand was played in a team of four match. At the first table, West led the ten of clubs. Declarer took it with the jack and played the jack of diamonds, overtaking it in dummy with the queen.

However, East, a thoroughly experienced player, played the three without batting an eyelash. East had decided when dummy came down that the only real chance of beating the contract was to play South for a doubleton diamond and refuse to take the first diamond trick.

The ruse succeeded all right because South came back to his hand with a club and repeated the diamond finesse. East took the king this time and shifted to the jack of spades, declarer eventually going down one.

The play started the same way at the second table, where the contract was also three notrump. A club was led and the jack of diamonds was overtaken with the queen, East refusing the trick just as at the previous table.

However, the declarer here, having a more suspicious nature, was not convinced that West had the king merely because the queen had won the trick. He knew East was capable of holding up the king if he had it, and that it wouldn't be wise to stake everything on the location of the king of diamonds.

So at trick three, he led a heart from dummy and finessed the queen. When the finesse won, the complexion of the hand changed with it. South now had nine sure tricks without bothering with further finesses.

Accordingly, he cashed his clubs and the two major suit aces—bringing him to eight tricks—and then led a diamond to the ace for his ninth trick. As matters turned out, the ace caught the king, and the outcome was that South made all 13 tricks.

Obviously, the declarer at the second table played the hand better than the one at the first table. He gave himself two chances to make the contract instead of one.

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Some very dear friends of mine have a summer place and I am frequently their weekend guest. I have just returned from a visit with them and I can't sleep nights for worrying about my last visit. I had a lot on my mind and I wasn't myself. I am very fond of these people and want to write them a thank-you letter, but don't know what to say. I can't say "I had a lovely time," because I didn't. I was very disagreeable and argumentative and had a miserable time and they know it. Should I ignore the facts or just skip the letter this time? Hypocrisy isn't easy for me.

NO HYPOCRITE

DEAR NO: Don't skip the thank-you letter. Explain that you were not yourself and you regret it. Thank them for putting up with you as well as for putting you up. They'll understand.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your saying that a husband should help his wife change the baby and make the formula and all that sissy work. It is just like a husband asking his wife to change the generator on their car.

VICTOR

DEAR VICTOR: I have never seen a woman change the generator on a car, but I know plenty who do a good job of recharging batteries.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My dear, 79-year-old mother is an angel but she is driving me crazy. Abby, I have had the heat on in my house all summer and she complains that she is cold. I keep it at 80 in her bedroom, but she can't stay in her bedroom all day. When she comes into the living room, she turns the heat up! When she isn't looking, my husband turns it back down again. I've had people open doors and windows to keep from roasting while she's taking the "chill off the room." I have given her sweaters, but she says she doesn't like to be "bundled up" indoors. Please, Abby, tell me what to do.

ROASTED

DEAR ROASTED: Give the little lady some long woolies to wear.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO C. C. If your mother "lied" to you, it was probably because she was ashamed of herself and didn't want you to be ashamed of her. The kindest thing you can do now is to refrain from asking too many questions. Your mother is human, just like you, and she needs your love and reassurance. Parents forgive their children. Children should be able to forgive parents too.

It Seams To Me

Questions, Answers

Patricia Scott

Skirt hems always look neater if the extra fullness along the edge is eliminated before finishing the hem.

Q. I have a problem with a circular skirt. I am 5 feet tall and have to shorten all skirts. Will you tell me what to do so I don't have to put tucks in the hem? Thank you. —Mrs. O. K.

A. First, finish your raw hem edge with seam binding or by turning edge under ¼ inch and top stitching. Then, stitch around the hem about ¼ inch from the edge, using about 10 stitches per inch. Pull the thread at both ends forming gathers, until the hem edge fits the skirt. Be sure to adjust this fullness as evenly as possible all around the hem. Pin the hem seam lines to the skirt seam lines and steam press to shrink out as much of the fullness as possible. Then finish your hem as you would normally.

Q. How can I make a good flat tailored bow? The ones I see on readymade dresses and blouses seem to be sewed together instead of being tied. — Mrs. M. J. K.

A. Use either a double strip of fabric or a piece of ribbon. Cut one long piece for bow and one short piece for tab. For a bow with two loops and two ends, the strip should be three times the length of the bow. For a bow with four loops and no ends the strip should be four times the length of the bow. The tab should be twice as long as the finished width of a bow. To make: Mark center of strip and fold bow as in Fig. 1. Whip folded ends together as in Fig. 1. Wrap tab around center of bow, folding one end of tab under and lapping it over the other. Slipstitch tab closed securely as in Fig. 3. Finished bow should look like Fig. 4.

Q. I have trouble with sleeves. It says to ease in fullness at top of sleeve, make a row of machine stitching along seam line ¼ inch inside seam line. When it is finished, I always have gathers that show. How do you elimnate this? — Mrs. J. O.

A. Just gathering in the extra fullness is not enough. You must shrink out the extra fullness with a steam iron. Place the sleeve cap on the end of a sleeve board or tailor's cushion. With the point of the steam iron facing towards the body of the sleeve, gently press over the gathers again and again until fullness disappears. This method works well on most fabrics, but it isn't always successful with synthetics or wash-n-wear fabrics.

YW Speakers Are Announced

The Lincoln YWCA and station KFMQ-FM will cosponsor another in the series of public affairs programs, "Equal Time," at 8 o'clock Sunday evening at the YW.

The public is invited to the live broadcast to hear discussions on the merit plan for election of judges and on the proposed full-time mayor plan.

Discussing the merit plan for judges will be Flavel Wright and F. C. Radke, attorneys, with Mrs. Wallace Peterson as moderator, and speaking on the full-time mayor proposal will be Mrs. James Arnot and Mrs. Elinor L. Brown, with Dr. A. B. Winter as moderator.

Suburbia Has A Variety Of Fun

PARK MANOR

Now fully recovered from that first of October slump, Park Manor residents are busy, busy, busy!

On the "critically busy list go Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams and Mr. and Mrs. John Binning, who were struck by an entertaining epidemic last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams prescribe a weekend of visitors for anyone who finds themselves with a bad case of Indian Summer doldrums.

Last Friday, three teen-age visitors arrived for a short visit with Terry, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adams. The trio, all former comrades during Terry's Sioux City school days, included Barney Devine, Gary Mouw, and John Luder. The overnight guests returned to their homes in Sioux City on Saturday morning.

And just as the younger generation of houseguests were leaving, more visitors from Sioux City were arriving. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hardt and sons Bob and Jim spent the rest of the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Adams, who were their former Sioux City neighbors.

The pleasure visit was briefly interrupted on Sunday morning when 11-year-old Jim Hardt broke his wrist while skating. The Hardt family returned to Sioux City early Sunday evening, however, and we're sure this was a weekend that neither the Adams nor their houseguests will soon forget!

And Mr. and Mrs. John Binning's remedy for curing that social slump consists of a birthday dinner party and a pre-game buffet luncheon for 35 guests!

On Friday evening, an Italian atmosphere was simulated for the celebration of Master Brad Binning's eighth birthday.

Brad's personally composed guest list included his parents and sister Robin, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Frahm, and a school chum, Billy Marquardt.

We can't imagine topping off a dinner of those spicy Italian dishes with birthday cake, but that's how Master Brad wanted it, and who should know better than the guest of honor!

On Saturday, Mrs. Binning set aside the Italian dishes to prepare a buffet luncheon more suitable for the conservative appetites of 35 of Mr. Binning's friends and business associates.

The sizable group of Lincoln men meet before each home University football game for a buffet luncheon and possibly a bit of pre-game of predicting (?) We'd imagine the Huskers are making this year's pre-game discussions a bit more interesting than some of the past seasons.

Another game responsible for entertainng in Park Manor is American's favorite, baseball. Arriving two weeks ago at the Bernard Packett home was a visitor who was to stay the course of the World Series games. San Francisco weather didn't cooperate though, and Mrs. William Ammon, formerly of Lincoln, had to return to her home in Tucson, Ariz., last Friday before the Monday clincher.

Mrs. Packett didn't say for whom she, Mr. Packett and their guests were rooting, but we are sure that Mrs. Ammon's many Lincoln friends made her stay in Lincoln a happy one.

And finally from Park Manor, comes the news of Debby Schmidt's sixth birthday. Debby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Schmidt, celebrated the occasion last Tuesday with a few of her school friends. The group met at the Schmidt home after school for the traditional birthday cake, ice cream, and games.

British Scientists Eye Atomic Scotch

London (AP) — The British Atomic Energy Authority said Wednesday it was experimenting on a new whisky—atomic scotch.

"Our experiments are on a small scale," said a spokesman, "and the results inconclusive so far."

Should the experiments succeed, however, the scientists say the result would be a new method of putting an instant kick into drinks.

The ingredients of atomic scotch?—newly made whisky and isotopes.

Mix them well and the result should be that old fashioned scotch whisky won't have to wait the usual two years before maturing.

The experiments are going forward at the Atomic Energy Authority's irradiation plant at Wantage, England.

"The whisky is put into a concrete, sealed chamber," said the spokesman, "and bombarded with radio isotopes from a core of cobalt.

"The whole subject arose some time ago," the spokesman continued, "when we heard of an experiment in Australia at a plant used there for purifying goats hair for carpets by irradiation."

The Australians discovered that whisky in their plant appeared to mature after irradiation.

The spokesman said he didn't know the details of how or why the Australians had whisky at a goats hair carpet factory.

The thought of atomic scotch brought an immediate reaction from Eric Roberts, an official of one of Scotland's biggest whisky distillers.

"I don't know a damn thing about science," said Roberts, "but the whole idea sounds horrible. You know, for many years people have been monkeying around with quick ways to make scotch mature. They get all sorts of results, and they get all sorts of smells with it."

He added:

"I'll say one thing though, anything you do to Australian whisky should improve it."

STOWAWAY WILL GET HIS WISH BEFORE HIS OUSTER

New York (AP) — A 2 -year-old Chilean baker, who stowed away in the hold of a ship for 17 days in an effort to visit the grave of a dead brother in this country, will get his wish.

Federal Judge David N. Edelstein Wednesday signed an order which will permit two U.S. marshals to escort him to the grave within the next two days. The grave is in New Jersey.

The story as it unfolded in court was this:

Roberto Lores - Barrera, married and the father of a child of 6, stole aboard the Grace liner Santa Cecilia in Valparaiso harbor on Sept. 1. The vessel reached here Sept. 17.

The next day crew members discovered Lores-Barrera, weak and undernourished. They turned him over to the FBI.

Penniless and friendless, he told his story to a legal aid society attorney, Bernard Moldow. Moldow checked and found it true, except that Lores-Barrera mistakenly thought his brother was buried in the Bronx.

After an extensive search, Moldow located the grave of the brother at Rosehill Cemetery in Linden. The brother, Ricardo, had died last May 25 at Mamaroneck, N.Y.

Roberto had pleaded guilty to a stowaway charge last week. Wednesday the lawyer went before the judge with this plea:

"For compassionate and humanitarian reasons I urge that Roberto be allowed at least this one visit to his brother's grave before he is compelled to return to South America."

The judge agreed and approved an order granting the visit.

Ingredient Found In Blood May Keep People From Getting Cancer

Atlantic City, N.J. (UPI)—A young research doctor Wednesday described his discovery of an ingredient of the blood which he said apparently keeps most people from getting cancer.

Dr. Edward D. McLaughlin told the 48th Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons that he found people without cancer have 10 and more times of the substance in their blood than persons with cancer.

Although admitting his research had just begun, he said relatively low amounts of the ingredient appeared to be a "defect" which "may be inherent in the patient" and not caused by the presence of cancer.

McLaughlin, now carrying on his investigation under a grant from the National Cancer Institute, said that he got evidence for his theory from people as well as mice and rats.

He measured the amount of the ingredient — which he called MF10—in the blood of 30 healthy persons, in 22 women who were pregnant or who had been just delivered and in 25 persons ill with a variety of diseases other than cancer.

He also measured the amounts in the blood of 15 persons with untreated cancers, in 9 persons with recurrent cancer, and in 6 who had had cancers surgically removed and had been free of cancer for 14 months to 7 years.

Some of the healthy subjects and those suffering from non-cancerous illnesses, he said, had 50 times more of MF-10 in their blood than did those with cancer or who had had cancers.

In the non-cancerous the content of MF-10 was uniformly high and in the cancerous uniformly low — comparatively speaking, he said.

His evidence using rats and mice for subjects was even more impressive. He said in a series of experiments, he found that the addition of MF-10 to the blood of the animals greatly decreased the chances of their getting cancer even when live cancer cells were injected into their bodies.

And, he added, the cancer in those given additional MF-10 grew less rapidly than in those without extra MF-10 in their bodies.

McLaughlin said he found MF-10 two years ago when he was working at the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Md.

He discovered it when he was routinely isolating fractions from human blood serum. Using refined techniques, it was the 1t0h ingredient he isolated.

McLaughlin said the ingredient, a fluffy, white, odorless, tasteless powder when dried.

He told the group that the ingredient had not yet been fully characterized chemically, but that evidence indicated that it is a type of protein.

Educators To Talk At Library Meet

Noted librarians and educators will address the annual Nebraska Library Association Convention, expected to draw some 300 members to Lincoln Thursday and Friday.

Highlighting the two-day meeting will be an address Thursday by Dr. Ralph Wardle, of the University of Omaha, about America's reading habits.

Friday's agenda includes an annual business meeting and a discussion session with Dr. Robert Hough of the University of Nebraska and Esther Montgomery, of the Lincoln Public Schools.

Pork Merchandising Improvement Is Urged

. . . Better Public Image Needed, Says Cook

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice — Approximately 100 pork producers were challenged here to become better merchants of their own product.

Describing agriculture as being deficient in public relations, Warren R. Cook of Norfolk suggested "creating a better public image" through unified efforts of the whole industry.

"No other state has more opportunity than Nebraska to get something done in the livestock industry," the speaker remarked.

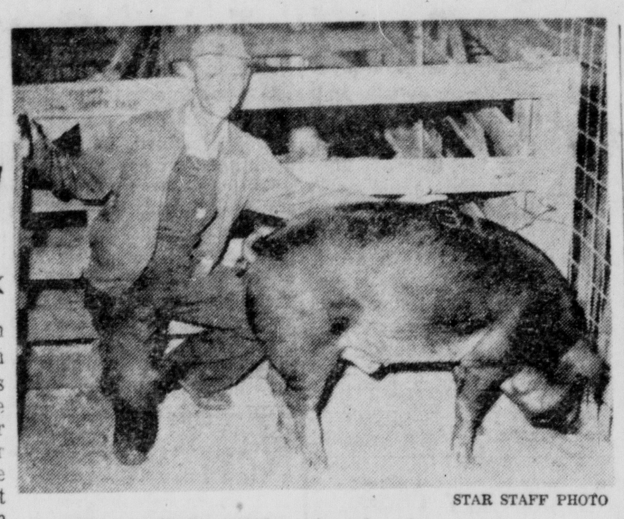

Cook, Norfolk mayor and director of the Livestock Auction Market Association, headlined Beatrice's first annual Pork Day. The Chamber of Commerce event was held in co-operation with the University of Nebraska and the Gage County Extension Service.

Harbine Duroc Tops

Sixteen cash winners were chosen from 54 market hog entries, a 230 pound Duroc owned by Arthur Rosenthal of Harbine taking the grand championship. Jim Kassing of Beatrice showed the top animal in the under-220 class, a Hampshire.

Rey Brecht, co-chairman with County Agent Robin Spence, said the activity is sure to be repeated in future years "to promote higher quality pork." A hog buyer and co-owner of the Beatrice Sales Pavilion, he noted that this area already is high in pork production.

Dr. Leo Lucas of the NU animal husbandry department gave pointers on higher swine profits, illustrating from carcasses of hogs used in a morning grading contest. He acted as one judge, along with Gene Francis, executive secretary of the St. Joseph Livestock Exchange.

Police Investigate Loss Of 2 Guns And Toaster

Police Wednesday were investigating the thefts of a .22-caliber rifle, a toaster and a .35-caliber army pistol from two Lincoln homes.

Fred Manners of 2105 Vine, reported that someone stole a toaster from his kitchen and a .22-caliber rifle from his bedroom.

Glen D. Otis reported the theft of a .35-caliber pistol by a person who removed a screen from his house and entered through a window.

Viet Nam Airplanes Strike Near Capital

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — Government planes made air strikes within sight of the capital Wednesday after communist forces blew up two government armored railway cars in an ambush 90 miles east of Saigon.

Diners in the downtown Caravelle Hotel heard explosions and saw plumes of black smoke rise over a wide front just across the Saigon River with planes darting in and out.

There was no official announcement of this operation.

A communique said the attack on the government train came at dusk Tuesday night near Muong Man station northeast of Phan Thiet.

Guerrillas mined the main rail line, blew up two armored railway cars on patrol and then attacked, firing armor-piercing 57 MM. recoilless rifles.

One Vietnamese soldier was killed and 3 others seriously wounded.

The communist ground fire against U.S. helicopters and planes has increased.

A U.S. spotter plane was shot down Monday, killing 3 American military advisers aboard. A Vietnamese plane flown by an American was also brought down while surveying the wreckage but the pilot escaped.

Another civilian spotter plane crashed Tuesday in the same area of the central highlands but the type of aircraft and identity of the pilot and crew were not made known.

Ear Thermometer

Dr. Theodor H. Benzinger, models his new thermometer which attaches to the ear and reaches into the tympanic membrane, which he says would measure internal body temperatures within 100th of a degree. He works for the Naval Medical Research Institute, Bethesda, Md.

University Of Colorado Boss Ousts Campus Paper Editor

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — President Quigg Newton of the University of Colorado announced Wednesday he has dismissed Gary Althen, 21, as editor of the campus newspaper, the Colorado Daily.

The paper recently carried attacks on Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz, and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Both Newton and Althen sent apologies to Goldwater.

The attacks were made in articles written by Carl Mitcham, a senior from Dallas, Tex.

"In what I believe is in the best interests of the university, I have elected to exercise executive authority in dismissing Mr. Althen rather than employ the indirect method of effecting his removal," Newton said in a statement.

Althen, a senior from Wheat Ridge, Colo., said he was "surprised that President Newton has acted against the will of the student body, the board of publications, the faculty senate and the board of regents."

Newton also announced he has appointed 3 university deans as additional members of the university board of publications.

The publications board will pick a new editor.

BRAGAN INTRODUCED . . . As new Milwaukee manager by John McHale.

Brash Bobby Gets Post At Milwaukee

. . . McHALE LIKES MOUTHY TYPE

Milwaukee (AP) — Brash Bobby Bragan, whose fiery temperament led to dismissal from managerial jobs with Pittsburgh and Cleveland within a year, signed Wednesday to manage the Milwaukee Braves in 1963.

Bragan, who will be 45 on Oct. 30, accepted a year contract to become the 4th Milwaukee field boss since the club's last serious pennant contender when it lost in a playoff with Los Angeles in 1959. Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

"I really am excited over this opportunity," Bragan told a news conference with unbridled enthusiasm. "This is the happiest I've been since I was made a second lieutenant in the army."

John McHale, the Braves' president and general manager, said there had been many outstanding candidates for the Milwaukee job, but "it was our thinking that the best possible man was Bobby Bragan."

It was apparent that the Braves had Bragan in mind virtually from the moment that Birdie Tebbetts, with a year to go on a two-year contract, quit Oct. 5 to become manager of the Cleveland Indians. Owner Lou Perini said at the time, "The ideal choice would be a man young enough to have the necessary fire, but mature enough to have acquired the necessary experience."

Bragan qualifies on both points. He is out-spoken and has youthful drive. He also has 11 years of managing experience, including 1½ years with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1956 and 1957 and a half season with Cleveland in 1958.

McHale said there has been a tendency for managers to remain too much on the bench in recent years and that he preferred a pilot "to be seen."

"I like to seen the mouthy type of a manager such as Danny Murtaugh and Casey Stengel," McHale added, without mentioning his new manager.

Dodgers Re-Hire Alston

Los Angeles (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers re-hired manager Walter Alston Wednesday. And Alston, refusing to believe reports that he had been sabotaged by Leo Durocher, said he'd like to retain the colorful and controversial Dodger coach.

Alston, dean of National League managers, will be returning for his 10th season as the Dodger field leader.

Some suspected, after the Dodgers blew the pennant in the final week of the season, that the 50-year-old manager might be washed up. But, partly because he was solidly supported by general manager Buzzie Bavasi, Alston's contract renewal was anticipated by most of the reporters who turned up for Wednesday's news conference at Dodger Stadium.

Enjoy Vacation

Alston, speaking by telephone from his home in Darrtown, Ohio, said: "I'm going to enjoy my vacation a lot more now."

Durocher didn't attend the news conference. Asked later whether he would return as a coach, he said he had no comment. "I'll let Mr. Bavasi make all the statements," he said.

Bavasi said he has no doubt Durocher would accept an offer to come back as a coach.

Following club tradition, the Dodgers are giving Alston a year contract. Alston was believed to be making about $42,000 under his old contract and the consensus is his salary won't change much, if at all.

Choose Coaches

Bavasi said Alston can choose his coaches but they'll discuss the matter further before any final decision is made.

"Let's face it," Bavasi said. "We're not going to stop Leo from talking. Nobody's going to do that. Nobody's been able to do it for 50 years. We wouldn't want to do it. It wouldn't be the same Leo.

"If Alston can live with Leo, that's fine with me."

Bavasi told a newsman earlier this week that he'd be willing to bet 100-to-1 Alston would offer to retain Durocher no matter what Leo might have said.

Cards Obtain Altman From Chicago Cubs

Chicago (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals took up some slack in their hitting power Wednesday by obtaining slugging outfielder George Altman from the Chicago Cubs in a 6-player deal.

In addition to Altman, 29, who batted .318 with 22 homers and 74 runs batted in, the Cubs gave up pitcher Don Cardwell and catcher Moe Thacker. In return they received right-handed pitchers Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel and catcher Jim Schaffer.

"The exchange will be a tremendous boost to our pitching staff in getting a top starter and reliever along with a promising, young catcher," said a Cub spokesman.

"We will have to do with a much younger outfield in replacing Altman, but this will give outfielders Nellie Mathews, Danny Murphy, Lou Brock and Don Landrum a chance to play regularly. The move also will improve our outfield defense."

The deal was handled by general managers John Holland of the Cubs and Bing Devine of St. Louis.

BIG 8 SPLITS WITH AAU

NCCA Backed In Current War

. . . LOOP DONS TAKE ACTION

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Copyright Oct. 18, 1962, The Lincoln Star

The Big 8 Conference has officially cast its lot with the new NCAA-backed sports federations in the United States and is severing relations with the Amateur Athletic Union, The Star learned Wednesday.

Big 8 executive director Reaves Peters confirmed that the conference faculty directors voted at their last meeting to back the newly-formed federations in the current war with the AAU over control of amateur athletics in the United States.

And in voicing official support for the Basketball Federation of the United States, the United States Track and Field Federation and the United States Gymnastics Federation, the Big 8 dons also ordered member schools and coaches to sever relations with the AAU.

Reaffirmed Stand

"The conference, in effect, reaffirmed the stand taken last January when the NCAA voted to support the Federation plan," Peters told The Star by phone from Kansas City. "The NCAA requested the action and the Big 8 voted to support the Federations, rather than the AAU."

Peters confirmed that as a result of the Big 8 vote, no conference athlete can enter any AAU or AAU-sanctioned competition in basketball, track and field, or gymnastics.

In addition, he confirmed that all coaches and administrators must resign their AAU memberships, AAU committee jobs or AAU offices in any sport, not just the 3 Federation affected sports.

Visit With NCAA

"I'm going to visit with the NCAA about this particular point," Peters said. "I think it is all right for us to support the Federations, but it might not be wise to sever relations with the AAU in other sports. After all, there is no wrestling federation and the AAU is the only sanctioning body.

"We have instructed conference people involved to sever relations with the AAU, regardless of sports, but maybe we can ease the situation a little. At least I'm going to visit with the NCAA about the matter."

Nebraska athletic director Tippy Dye confirmed the conference directive and reported he had issued instructions to his staff members, informing them of the Big 8 action.

Same Situation

Henceforth, Nebraska basketball, track and field and gymnastics athletes may enter only Federation-sanctioned events and cannot enter any AAU events. Also, Husker coaches have been ordered to sever all relations with the AAU. The same situation exists at other Big 8 schools.

It was also learned by The Star that the Big 8 is in the process of revising its rules to conform with the decision to join the Federations. A December meeting of presidents, faculty representatives and athletic directors is slated to act on the changes.

Present rules refer only to AAU-sanctioned events for outside competition.

Sevigne Named

In a companion development Wednesday, Nebraska track coach Frank Sevigne received notification from the USTFF office in New York that he has been named temporary Federation chairman for Nebraska.

"My job will be to organize USTFF activities within the state," Sevigne said.

Sevigne said he would begin immediately to "organize committees and hold some meetings to get the ball rolling" for the Nebraska Track Federation.

"We will probably host an indoor and an outdoor Federation open meet," Sevigne said.

No Backing Down

The action of the Big 8 indicates the NCAA members do not intend to back down in their efforts to reorganize the supervision of amateur athletics in the United States, despite the recent action by the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

At a recent meeting of the world group, the IAAF sided with the AAU and warned that any United States athlete who competed without AAU sanction—in effect, competing in a Federation-sanctioned event — would be ruled ineligible for international competition. This would include the Olympics and Pan American Games, the IAAF said.

First scheduled Federation competition is Nov. 22 when the USTFF cross-country championships will be held at Ohio State. The AAU cross-country meet is the same day in Chicago.

★ ★ ★ ★

Who, What, Why, When

The following is a brief explanation—supplied by them—of the 4 amateur federations which are involved in the controversy with the AAU over supervision of athletics in the United States:

The Basketball Federation of the United States—Became operative July 1 and a petition to designate BFUSA as this country's representative to the International Amateur Basketball Federation is pending before that group. It is scheduled for action in December.

The United States Baseball Federation—Formally organized July 14 and a petition to designate the Federation as this country's representative to the International Amateur Baseball Federation is scheduled to be submitted this month (October.)

The United States Track and Field Federation—Officially chartered July 23-24 and became operative Sept. 24 with the establishment of a headquarters office and staff in New York City. The USTFF has not, and will not, seek international recognition until it has operated for at least one season and its program is firmly established. The USTFF will conduct an extensive development and competitive program beginning with the 1962-63 track and field season to assure a notable advance for track and field in the United States.

The United States Gymnastics Federation — Completed its organizational plans Sept. 29-30 in Chicago in a meeting attended by 42 delegates representing 11 different national and regional organizations. It will be formally constituted within the next few weeks.

Sooner Scorer Almost Didn't Make The Trip

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma almost left behind last Saturday the football player who made the Sooners' only touchdown against Texas.

In the game at Dallas—won by Texas 9-6 — quarterback Ronald Fletcher passed 34 yards to sophomore Lance Rentzel, 190-pounder of Oklahoma City, who crossed the goal line.

University of Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson said there wasn't room on the plane for Rentzel, "but we planned to get him to Dallas." As it turned out, Rentzel got there in a private car —reportedly after being told that he could suit up if he could make it.

Griffith Wins Decision

Vienna (AP)—World Welterweight champion Emile Griffith of New York outpointed Teddy Wright of Detroit Wednesday night in a 15-round bout billed for the world junior middleweight title. The organizers wound up the only ones recognizing the fight as for a title.

Wildcat Frosh Gridders Are Bigger This Year

. . . WILL MEET HUSKER YEARLINGS FRIDAY

Lincoln Star Special

Manhattan — The Kansas State freshman football team will open its brief interuniversity competition Friday against the Nebraska yearlings in Lincoln. Kick-off is slated for 2:45 p.m., a change from the originally scheduled 1:45 p.m. starting time.

Coach Ed Dissinger, who is in his 5th year as freshman boss man, will be seeking his first victory.

The young 'Cats will be somewhat bigger — both heft and height — than in the near past. Flanking the line will be Willie Jones (210) and Bill Matan (225). Both boys are considered to be good, strong hitters and should give K State tough end play.

A tentative starting line-up would be Matan and Jones, both of St. Louis, at ends; John Caril (225), Topeka, and Bill Darnell (200), Hutchinson, at tackles; Warren Klawiter (200), St. Louis, and Phil King (190), Manhattan, at guards; and Dan Woodward (185), Columbia, Mo., at center. The average weight here is 205 pounds —the varsity average is 196.

In the backfield, it should be Jim Grechus (180), Lexington, Mo., at quarterback; Steve Meats (175), Concordia, and Ron Morel (150), Palco, at halfbacks; and Glenn Miller (170), San Antonio, Tex., at fullback. Meats and Morel have shown they do possess the potential to be breakaway runners.

The following Thursday (Oct. 25), the 'Cats close out their schedule by playing Kansas here.

While the game iself is important, the coaches' main objective is to get the boys settled into the K-State program. Coach Dissinger says, "It has been our philosophy to win our freshman football games if possible. But, above that, we feel our main job is to develop a Kansas State feeling among the squad members and to teach the K-State nomenclature and techniques of football. We try to instill a solid background so that when the freshmen move on to the varsity the following spring, they will feel at home.

Huskers Scrimmage Despite Slow Drizzle

Despite a slow drizzle, the Nebraska Cornhuskers got in some defensive line scrimmage Wednesday afternoon.

Only the top two lines took part in the contact drills against Kansas State plays run by the scout squad. The contact came in group work.

While the linemen worked at stopping Wildcat plays, the backs practiced pass offense and defense.

Coach Bob Devaney said it was doubtfull fullback Bill Thornton, halfback John Vujevich and guard Bill Rogers would suit up for the Kansas State game.

"Bill reinjured his ankle running a pass pattern Tuesday," Devaney said. "So he very likely won't suit up. We're going to rest him until he completely heals."

WEAVER WEARS ARMY HELMET IN PRACTICE

Manhattan, Kan. (AP)—Doug Weaver, Kansas State football coach who was hanged in effigy in front of the campus library Tuesday, wore an army helmet during football practice Wednesday, bringing smiles from his squad before a spirited workout.

His team will play unbeaten Nebraska at Lincoln Saturday seeking its first victory of the season. The Wildcats will be in good physical condition except for end Carl Brown, who started against Missouri and injured his knee early in the game. Brown will not make the trip.

James McCain, K-State president, gave Weaver and his staff unqualified support at a Wildcat booster club meeting. Weaver had a 1-9 record in 1960 and 2-8 last year.

"We are fortunate to have one of such ability, integrity and ideals in charge of our football program."

Huskers Rank 4th In Pass Defense

Nebraska is ranked 4th in passing defense, according to statistics released Wednesday by the NCAA service bureau.

The Huskers have allowed only 23 completions in 47 attempts for 215 yards by 4 opponents this season. This is an average of 53.8 yards per game.

Boston University, Oklahoma, and Syracuse rank above Nebraska in that order. Boston has allowed only 28.3 yards per game through the airways, while Oklahoma has yielded 46.7 yards and Syracuse has given up 49.7.

Players Remove Obstacle; Booted From The Lineup

Baltimore (AP)—Two softball players who removed an obstacle from the outfield have been scratched from the starting lineup.

Judge Meyer Cardin sentenced George W. Turner, 22, and William Ward Jr., 16 to one year each in the Maryland Institution for Males after they admitted setting fire to an empty-wartime housing building.

In a statement introduced into evidence, Turner, manager of the team, said the house sat across the whole outfield.

"Every time someone would hit the ball to the outfield, the ball would roll under the house or go into it through holes in the wall," the statement said.

Athletes Warned Again

Chicago (AP) — The Amatuer Athletic Union of the United States officially issued what it said was a final warning Wednesday to this country's athletes that they will be ruled ineligible for international competition if they compete in Federation open meets.

It was taken as the AAU's biggest broadside against the Federation movement supported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and encompassing 555 colleges and universities, 300 junior colleges, 50 members of the National Track and Field Association (track clubs) and 17,000 high schools in every state but Texas, which is not a member of the National Federation of High School Associations.

The action firmly continues a stalemate between the two factions and imperils the makeup of U.S. teams for the Pan-American Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil, April 20-May 5, 1963, and the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

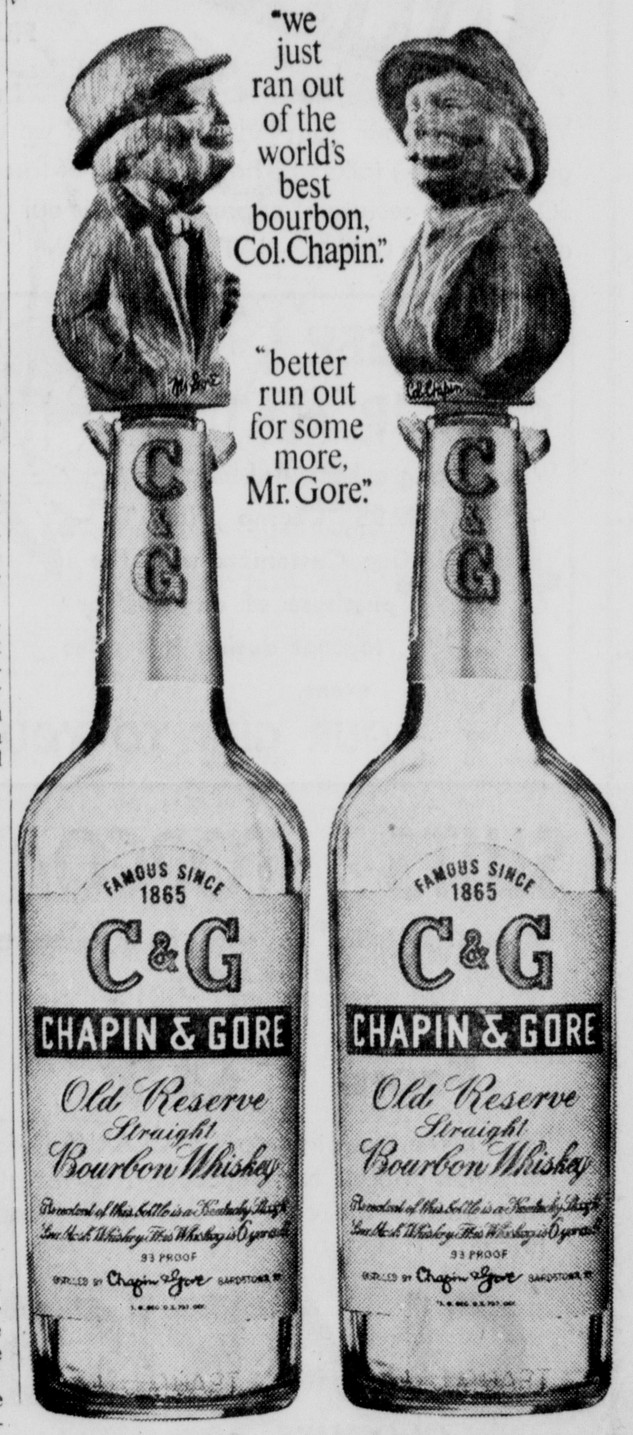

This especially is true in track and field, the strongest of the Federation groups which have been organized over the last two years. Others are operative in basketball and gymnastics at the present time.

Placed squarely in the middle of the hassle is the athlete himself.

The first major showdown will come in the Federation's national cross-country meet at Ohio State Thanksgiving Day. Currently scheduled the same date is the national AAU harrier meet in Chicago.

Giving the AAU supreme authority in certifying athletes for international competition was action taken in Belgrade a month ago by the International Amateur Athletic Federation. It barred athletes of all its members from participating in an American track meet not authorized or sanctioned by the AAU.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said his group will sanction AAU meets. Louis Fisher of High Point, N.C., president of the AAU, and AAU executive director Col. Donald F. Hull of New York said the AAU will not sanction "open" Federation meets.

Terry Emerges As Bell Cow Of Yankee Pitching Staff

New York (AP) — Ralph Terry emerged Wednesday as the bell cow of the much-maligned New York Yankee pitching staff which carried the American League champions to their 20th World Series success.

While the hitters sagged to a .199 team average and Mickey Mantle slumped to .120, the pitchers toted the Yanks past the stubborn San Francisco Giants in a tense 7-game series.

Thirteen days of travel and frustrating delay boiled down to one heart-stopping moment in the 9th inning of Tuesday's final game at San Francisco.

Personal Triumph

In many ways this Series was a personal triumph for Terry, goat of the 1960 Series in Pittsburgh, when he threw a home run ball to Bill Mazeroski that lost the tournament for Casey Stengel in his last year as Yankee manager.

The lean, boyishly handsome native of Big Cabin, Okla., had lived with that bitter memory for two years.

The Yanks had nothing but the best to say about the Giants, who had fought back from a 4-game deficit to tie for the National League pennant and then had beaten Los Angeles in a best-of-3 playoff.

Fought to Wire

"The Giants didn't do anything to disgrace themselves," said Ralph Houk, Yankee manager. "They fought us right down to the last out of the 7th game. I'm sure glad he (McCovey) hit that ball right at somebody. He couldn't have hit it much better. But I don't care how hard they hit them if they hit them at somebody."

Houk, a rookie manager in 1961, thus won his second straight Series as the successor to Stengel. It was a first Series for Alvin Dark as the Giants' skipper.

Dark complimented Terry, declaring, "He was great . . . Terry was tremendous."

He concluded, "All our guys played great. We'll get 'em next year."

Record Tied

The rain-spattered Series lasted 13 days, tying the record of 1911. One game was rained out in New York and there were 3 postponements in Candlestick Park as well as two off days for travel.

Each winning Yank will pocket about $12,000 and each losing Giant about $8,000. Exact player splits will be announced later by Commissioner Ford Frick's office. The winners split $362,578.32 and losers cut up $241,718.88.

Terry won the car offered by a magazine to the World Series hero. He should have some interesting conversations with general manager Roy Hamey when it is time to sign his contract for 1963.

U.S. Marksmen Win Most Events

Cairo (AP)—American marksmen dominated the big bore free rifle events in the world shooting championships Wednesday, taking 3 gold and two bronze medals.

Paced by college student, Gary Anderson, who won two more gold medals for a total of 4 and set his third world record of the current championships, the United States team still could not top the Russians in the team event. Russia's team depth prevailed as the won their sole gold medal of the day.

Wednesday's competition was made up of prone, kneeling and standing events in the 30 caliber rifle. Medals also were awarded to the best cummulative score in the best team performance.

Anderson of Axtel, Neb., won the prone cumulative titles, Tommy Pool won the gold medal standing and bronze cumulative score and Daniel Puckel won third place in the overall standing.

Few industries would entrust the distribution of their products to such a young man.

But the newspaper carrier is an exception. He is worthy of such trust and has proved it time and again.

As the final and perhaps most important link between the newspaper and its readers, he appreciates the obligation of delivering the product of a free press to a free people.

To perform his job well, he has taken the time to examine the serious responsibilities of life. You won't find him on the streets—unless it's a business matter. He has no time for the trouble that puts other youngsters on the front pages of the newspapers he carries.

He is a busy young man, and as a result, a better one. His responsibility is measured by the community segment he serves and the readers he helps keep informed. His real profits are measured in lessons of citizenship, integrity, self-reliance and growth.

These qualities will bear fruit in later years . . . as evidenced by the many national leaders who attribute a newspaper route to part of their development—among them, Herbert Hoover, Harry Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On October 20, this newspaper joins all newspapers in the nation in a tribute to your carrier—for the outstanding job he is doing now, and the role he will play in the future.

Nervous Football Poll Leaders Face Another Dark Weekend

By DICK DUNKEL

Ratings are shrinking, upstarts are winning, and college football's nervous leaders face another dark weekend.

Of the shaky Top 12, only No. 1 Mississippi has in its Saturday date with Tulane any cause to relax and smell the flowers.

Most others, frankly, are worried. That's particularly true of Texas and Arkansas, now ranked 4th and 5th, who will meet head-on at Austin. The winner here might well be No. 1 next week.

Here are Dunkel Index differences which leading teams have set—so far—over next Saturday's opposition:

Ole Miss 36 over Tulane
Alabama 19 over Tennessee.
Wisconsin 10 over Iowa
Texas even with Arkansas
LSU 18 over Kentucky
Ohio St. 2 over N'western
Oregon 17 over Air Force
So. Calif. 22 over Calif.
UCLA 17 over Pitt
Ga. Tech 1 over Auburn

The higher rating team has won in 77.4% of the 773 games, not counting ties, covered here this season to date.

Pars in the week's other big games:

Friday night

Miami, Fla., 7 over Maryland.

Saturday

EAST: Penn State 8 over Syracuse, Army 23 over Va. Tech, Navy 1 over Boston College, Holy Cross 3 over Dartmouth, Princeton 16 over Colgate, Villanova 8 over Delaware, Penn 1 over Brown, Yale 2 over Cornell, Harvard 3 over Columbia.

MIDWEST: Purdue 2 over Michigan, Minnesota 24 over Illinois, Kansas 4 over Oklahoma, Missouri 9 over Okla. State, Mich. State 5 over Notre Dame, Nebraska 24 over Kansas State, Iowa State 1 over Colorado.

SOUTH: Duke 11 over Clemson, Florida 27 over Vanderbilt, Florida State 5 over Georgia, S. Carolina, 8 over N. Carolina, W. Virginia 16 over G. Washington, Virginia 5 over Wake Forest.

SOUTHWEST: Rice 15 over SMU, Miss. State 1 over Houston, TCU 12 over Texas A&M, Baylor 9 over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Washington 20 over Stanford, Wash. State 2 over Indiana, Oregon St. 33 over Pacific.

Dana Protests Mayor's Proclamation

Blair — Mayor Edward Eagleton's proclamation urging the United States to disassociate itself with the United Nations has drawn protests from students and faculty members at Dana College.

By a large majority, Dana students accepted the resolution drafted at a special meeting. Herb Knudsen of Lincoln serves as president of the student body, which initiated the action.

The resolution of the students stated:

"As responsible members of the Blair community, we do hereby disassociate ourselves from the proclamation issued by Mayor Eagleton in regard to withdrawal of the U.S. from the U.N.

"While we feel the mayor has a right to his stand on the issue, we resent the impression given in the proclamation that he is officially speaking for the entire community."

Meanwhile, Dana faculty members formed a resolution similar but more extensive than the students' statement.

"Imperfect as it may be, the U.N. remains one of our best hopes for world peace," the resolution declared.

Their resolution also disassociated "ourselves from any statements or proclamations made by the mayor on behalf of the city of Blair which are concerned with the withdrawal of the U.S. from the U.N." The stand as approved by 34 of 35 faculty members at the meeting.

Discussions on the pros and cons of the U.N. are due next week when another resolution will be formed to state the students' official position on the U.N.

In his U.N. proclamation, Mayor Eagleton said, "The U.N. humanitarian purposes have been subverted to the interests of the USSR since its existence.

"The U.N. is the main avenue of departure for the Soviet espionage apparatus in these United States.

"Its activities pose a constant threat to the national interest of the U.S. and its constitutional form of government by virtue of the U.N. treaty-making powers."

Colorado Sheriffs, FBI Man Testify In Saxton Trial

Omaha (AP)—Two Colorado sheriffs testified Wednesday that they had arrested a man with money "bulging from every pocket" as he walked down a road last April.

They identified the man as Richard Davis, 38, who has already been sentenced for participating in the robbery of the Enders, Neb., bank. Their testimony was given at the trial of Charles Edward Saxton, 24, who also is charged with participation in that robbery.

Agent William J. Malone of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, stationed at Denver, testified he had questioned Saxton at Wray, Colo., on the night of the bank robbery.

Amendment No. 7 Brings Political Agreement

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

David City — Butler County chairmen for the Democratic and Republican Parties agree on one thing.

The proposed amendment No. 7 must be passed for the county's well being, they jointly announced Wednesday.

Democrat Dan Hook said, "We don't want Omaha and Lincoln running Nebraska like Chicago does Illinois."

Would Weaken Voice?

Republican Loran Schmit fears defeat of the amendment, which asks consideration of both area and population in legislative reapportionment, would "greatly weaken the county's voice in state matters."

The party leaders stressed that they were speaking for themselves, not their organizations.

However, Hook said, "I am quite sure the Democratic organization of this county will back my stand on the matter."

He said he looks for the amendment to pass with little trouble.

Stryker Told

County Republicans and Democrats alike have contacked Harold Stryker, their state senator from Rising City, asking him to support the measure. He has voiced approval.

Hook announced plans to distribute information on the amendment throughout Butler County before the election.

"We are going to show the voters how much reapportionment based only on population would hurt them and their position," he said.

Hook added that negotiations are underway to print additional materials carrying joint party support.

Picketing Out

Omaha (AP) — Mrs. Evelyn Sims, the only Omaha member of Local 2 of the Office Workers of America, won't have to be a lonely picket after all. She says a new two-year contract has been negotiated between her local and her employer, the AFL-CIO. Her union had authorized a strike while negotiations were in progress.

Indicted Congressman Posts Bond; Sees Win

Baltimore (AP)—Rep. Thomas F. Johnson of Maryland, one of two Democratic Congressmen indicted on conspiracy charges, appeared at Baltimore's federal building Wednesday and posted $5,000 bond.

Afterwards, the 53-year-old Congressman told newsmen he would continue his campaign for re-election to Congress and predicted he would "win overwhelming support from the voters."

Rep. Frank W. Boykin of Alabama, the other Congressman accused, was expected to appear at federal court in Mobile, Ala., to post bond.

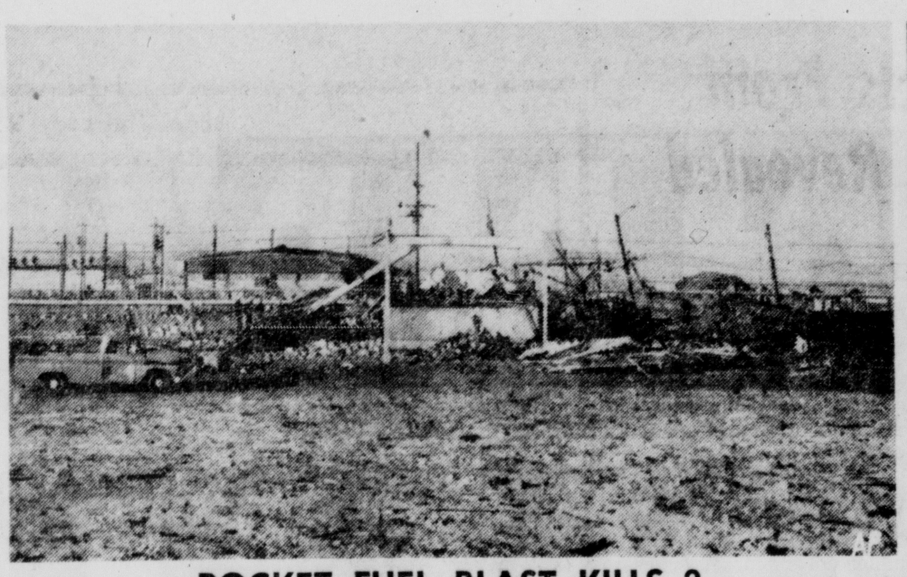

The two were indicted Tuesday on charges that they accepted money from savings and loan operators to persuade the Justice Department to delay or drop a pending mail-fraud case against J. Kenneth Edlin of Miami.

Edlin, 64, and William L. Robinson, 37, also named in the indictment, are expected to surrender in Miami Friday.

Arraignment for all 4 defendants was set for Oct. 26 before Judge Roszel C. Thomsen in U.S. District Court, Baltimore.

The two Congressmen said they are confident they will be found innocent of the charges.

Johnson charged that the issue was old and had "been completely hashed and rehashed during the primary campaign."

ROCKET FUEL BLAST KILLS 3

Three men were killed and 18 injured at the Hercules Powder Co. plant at Bacchus, Utah, Wednesday in the explosion of 4,000 pounds of rocket fuel. The blast leveled a 20-by-30 foot frame building leaving hole, extreme right, and was heard 15 miles away in Salt Lake City. It also wrecked adjacent structure, center.

Hair Streaking Powder 'Suspect'

Pasadena, Calif. (UPI)—A federal food and drug official said Wednesday his office was investigating a report that a 7-year-old boy was made seriously ill from breathing a powdery substance used to streak hair.

Doctors said the powder clogged the nostrils of Robert Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Ross, Altadena, Calif., when he was watching a 12-year-old neighbor girl streak her hair. Taken to St. Luke Hospital Sunday, Robert underwent a tracheotomy — a throat incision to supply oxygen—and remained hospitalized Wednesday.

Dr. Morris L. Grover, city health officer, said use of the powder apparently was a fad among elementary and high school girls. He said a container for the substance had the warning "keep out of the reach of children," but that it was in small print.

"The product is quite dangerous if used indiscriminately," he said, cautioning school girls against the possible toxic effects. "It appears to be a finely divided metalic dust made of such alloys as bronze, copper, zinc, tin and aluminum, depending on the color."

He said "this finely divided dust can be inhaled unwittingly and causes severe irritation to the nose and the lungs, bringing on swelling which interferes with breathing."

Several cosmetic firms manufacture the fashion color streak preparations throughout the nation, Grover said.

"I think the food and drug administration should have been a little more careful in allowing such products to get into the hands of youngsters," he said.

Gordon Woods, regional director of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, has assigned investigators to the case. He said samples of the product, which is manufactured in London, New York and Toronto, Canada, would be sent to Washington, D.C., laboratories for analysis.

City Issues Permit For Office Building

A building permit for a two-story office building, estimated at $171,542, was issued Wednesday to Abel Investment Company by the city building inspector.

Dimensions of the structural concrete building at 1125 J are 147 by 70 feet.

New Products From Animal Fats Revealed

The development of new products from tallows and animal fats which now play an important part in the missile program and recoup a $1 billion market lost to petroleum products was announced Wednesday by Gov. Frank Morrison.

The new products developed by Foster D. Snell, Inc., of New York under contract from the State Department of Agriculture are:

—Extreme high temperature resistant lubricants.

—Antifoaming soaps.

—An improved modified toilet soap.

State agriculture director Pearle Finigan said the development of the high temperature resistant lubricants "may put Nebraska in the space age."

Tallows Better Than Oil

The lubricants developed from tallows were found to be superior to lubricants from petroleum oil and castor oil when tested under heat from 600 to 900 degrees Fahrenheit, the announcement said.

Officials of Snell were quoted as saying "the tallow lubricants demonstrated showed no deterioration after 10 hours of exposure at 690 degrees while the petroleum oil and castor oil partly decomposed." The company noted "the coming of the space age has led to increasingly more stringent requirements for lubricants and has created a real demand for lubricants in the ranges of 600 and 900 degrees."

Finigan said this development may eventually result in Nebraska getting some missile program contracts. None of the more than $2.6 billion being spent on the program in 1963 will be in Nebraska.

The agriculture director said the department plans to patent the development, and will make the formula public when that is done.

Finigan said the antifoaming soaps "will avoid a problem caused by foam clogging sewage plants and floating on rivers as well as the annoyance caused housewives by clogging washing machines."

Detergents used to be made from tallows and animal fats, but in the past 15 years this billion dollar market has been lost to the petroleum industry, he noted.

Finnigan said the department also plans to patent this development. Morrison said the money coming from these patents can be used to accelebrate the state's ag research program.

The agriculture director said the modified toilet soap "is in an area where soap has not been completely replaced by petroleum based detergents, although substantial inroads have been made."

He said the modified soap "appears to have all the advantages of conventional soap, but does not form a curd in hard water."

The governor said he considered the development of the missile lubricant "the most important made by the State Department of Agriculture."

Difference Of Opinion

Tel Aviv, Israel (AP)—The newspaper Maariv reports the Yemenite dancers of Israel's Inbal Biblical dance troupe, engaged by Hollywood to appear in the film "The Greatest Story Ever Told," have strong opposition of Israel's Chief Rabbinate and the blessing of the Ministry of Education on their project.

Century Of Ag Advance Included State From Start

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Nebraska has been a part of a century of progress in agriculture from the beginning, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official declared Wednesday evening at a USDA centennial dinner.

"In this centennial year, when we take stock of agriculture, we are in reality evaluating the progress of an entire nation," said Dr. H. A. Rodenhiser, acting deputy administrator of the USDA's agricultural research service.

Rodenhiser

Rodenhiser, addressing more than 350 persons at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, said the $6 billion bill for all agricultural research in the last 100 years has been a bargain.

"This figure takes on significance when you realize that if farmers today used the methods of 1940—that's just a little over 20 years ago—it would cost an extra $13 billion a year to produce food and fibre for the nation," said Rodenhiser.

Attract Youth

Rodenhiser encouraged research and educational institutions concerned with agriculture to take every opportunity to attract the young minds of the country to agricultural research.

"Research must continue and redouble the effort to find this new knowledge. If we stand still, agricultural progress automatically loses ground in a rapidly changing world," he stressed.

Four major areas of emphasis on research were singled out by Rodenhiser for special attention from the USDA:

1. Adjustments to achieve better management of our abundance and wiser use of soil, water, and forest resources.

2. Improvements that will reduce costs of farm production.

3. New uses for farm products.

4. Methods to produce better quality in agricultural products and improved consumer use of food and fiber.

The USDA speaker recognized that the first claim under the Homestead Act was filed by David Freeman in Nebraska and that the state gave the nation the third secretary of agriculture in J. Sterling Morton.

Recognizing the most recent announcement in agriculture Rodenhiser paid credit to University of Nebraska for the breakthrough in the development of hybrid wheat.

"This research finding in plant genes may well prove to be of tremendous practical significance," he added.

School Head Dies

Belleville, Kan. (AP)—Robert C. Butler, 53, superintendent of schools at Belleville, died Wednesday of a heart ailment. Belleville dedicated a new high school just two weeks ago.

GOP Drives To Get More Voters Out

Republicans in Lincoln are conducting an all-out registration drive which will continue through Oct. 26, Mrs. R. W. Smith, county vice chairman, announced Wednesday.

Mrs. Smith said hundreds of party workers in neighborhoods throughout the city will be "knocking on doors to provide voters with up-to-date information about how and where to register."

"We hope to add many voters to the total now on the list of those eligible to vote Nov. 6," Mrs. Smith said, "because we feel that the larger the vote, the greater our margin of victory will be."

Republican County vice chairman Arlen Beam is assisting with the operation of the activity. Ward chairmen are:

Ward 1—Mrs. Arthur Knox and Mrs. Lyle Rice, co-chairmen; Ward 2—Joseph McMillan; Ward 3—Douglas Paine; Ward 4—Mrs. Lucille D. Belisle; Ward 6—Mrs. Stanley S. Haight and Mrs. Boyd Raynor, co-chairmen; Ward 7—Frank Musseh and Charles E. Wilcox, assistant; Ward 8—Mrs. Don Rixstine; Ward 9—Mrs. Bertrand L. Ehrmann and James W. Hewitt, co-chairmen; Ward 10 north—Mrs. Lloyd True; Ward 10 south—Lyle DeYong; Ward 11—Mrs. Virgil Mitrell and Mrs. R. D. Stage, co-chairmen; Ward 12 north—Hubert H. Hall and Kenneth Bills, co-chairmen; Ward 12 south—Don Leising.

NWU Students' Parents Will Be Hosted Saturday

Parents of Nebraska Wesleyan University students will have a full schedule of activities during the annual Parent's Day Saturday.

The parents will be guests of the school at either the Wayne State football contest at 7:30 p.m. or at the play, "Tartuffe," presented by the Plainsmen Players.

Parents will begin registering at 2 p.m. in the Campus Center. At 4 p.m. a convocation will be held in the Enid Miller Theater.

Deans Sam Dahl, Ethel Johnson, and Milton Evans will lead a panel discussion on: "Studenta Are People."

Parents have been invited to a coffee hour with friends, students, and faculty after the football game in the Campus center.

Child-Bearing At 60 Seen As Possibility

Atlantic City (AP) — Some 60-year-old grandmothers one day may be baby-sitting with their own babies, instead of their grandchildren.

For it is possible that a woman's child-bearing years might be extended past age 60 due to use of oral contraceptive pills, Dr. C. A. Douglas Ringrose of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, speculated Wednesday.

The pills suppress monthly ovulation, the release of a female egg cell.

Dr. Ringrose finds evidence that the normal, regular release of egg cells or ova "ages" an ovary until it customarily stops producing egg cells between ages 45 and 50. This is the time of the menopause, or "change of life."

But through long use of pills, ovaries might remain youthful and potentially active until the late 50's or early 60's, making it possible for a woman to conceive and bear a child then, he said in a report to the American College of Surgeons.

"If so, a new specialty, geriatric obstetrics, may be created. Because of their efficiency and acceptance, oral contraceptives are likely here to stay, but possibly they will have to be combined with some other method at the time of the 'customary' menopause," he said.

Throughout fertile life, a woman releases about 200 eggs from each of her two ovaries.

Dr. Ringrose finds that each time an egg is released, a tiny bit of fibrous tissue is formed. This scar tissue replaces cells which produce eggs and hormones. This tissue accumulates, and blood vessels in the ovary itself also thicken and narrow. At a certain point in this aging, menopause ensues.

Oral contraceptives containing a reproductive hormone, progesterone, block this regular release. Hence the ovary might maintain its potential far longer than usual.

Dr. Ringrose studied 75 ovaries obtained during surgery or autopsies, at ages ranging from the newborn to women past menopause. He is associated with the Royal Alexandria Hospital in Edmonton.

The oral contraceptives have been in use about 7 years.

'Cardshark Proof'

Hof, Germany (UPI) — Pensioner Adam Mueller, 36, applied for a patent for his automatic card shuffler he says is "cardshark proof." The machine consists of a vibrating box which drops cards one at a time into a slot at the bottom.

Sod House Group Holding Meet In Red Cloud Oct. 28

Red Cloud — The semi-annual meeting of the Sod House Society will be held here Sunday, Oct. 28, at the Masonic Hall. Registration will be at 10:30 a.m.

A worship service will be held at 11 a.m. with Mrs. DeAlta Armold, a returned missionary from Africa, as speaker.

Mrs. Mildred Bennett of Red Cloud will speak on "The Sod House in Willa Cather's Writings" at the afternoon session. A conducted tour through the Willa Cather Museum will follow this meeting.

Lincoln K State Alums To Hold Reunion Here

Some 200 Kansas State University alumni living in Lincoln have been invited to attend a pre-game reunion here Saturday.

A field representative for the K State group said the alums will dine from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Town and Country Motel before the University of Nebraska and Kansas State football game at 2 p.m.

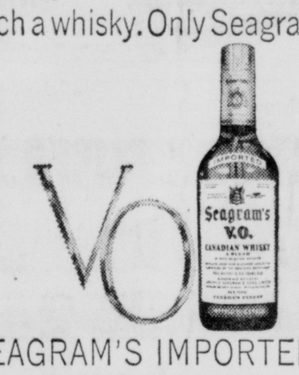

Do you remember the first time you tried V.O.?

One sip, and you knew why this Canadian is considered the world's most honored whisky.

For V.O. is light in body. But it is much more. V.O. is the light whisky with brilliance of flavor.

With a taste so pleasing, most people enjoy V.O. the first time they try it.

Everyone would like to make such a whisky. Only Seagram can.

McCormack Accuses Republicans Of Giving Fidel Boost

Washington (AP)—Speaker of the House John McCormack Wednesday accused the Republicans of having helped Fidel Castro take over Cuba.

The Massachusetts Democrat said "the evidence clearly shows that Castro couldn't have got into power without the direct or indirect aid of our government during the Eisenhower administration."

McCormack blamed the GOP leadership for injecting Castro into the current congressional election campaign and defended President Kennedy's handling of Cuba.

The speaker made his comments to newsmen in reply to a Republican National Committee statment proclaiming Cuba the top issue of the election campaign and charging the administration with irresolution in its Cuba policies.

McCormack said that Kennedy is "doing everything he possibly can, short of war, to meet the Cuban situation that he inherited from President (Dwight D.) Eisenhower."

The GOP statement was issued by the Republican national chairman, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, Arizona, chairman of the party's senatorial campaign committee, and Rep. Bob Wilson, California, chairman of the GOP congressional campaign committee.

McCormack said Miller had "done a disservice to the foreign affairs of our country by stating that Cuba is a campaign issue," and was "evading his responsibility" by failing to say what action should be taken about Castro.

The speaker urged his "Republican friends to take foreign affairs out of the campaign," and said, "this is one field in which we all should be united as Americans."

JFK Wooed Neutral, Won Enemy—GOP

Washington (AP)—The Republican National Committee said Wednesday the Kennedy administration has wooed a "neutral" and won an enemy in President Sukarno of Indonesia.

"Does anyone now believe the New Frontier has either the wisdom or experience to cope with the international problems of today?" the committee asked in a statement in its publication "Battle Line."

"The New Frontier, which persistently wooed Indonesia's Sukarno even while he rattled Soviet guns in the face of our long-time friend, the Netherlands, has finally reaped the harvest," the statement said, adding:

"So comes the payoff for another experiment in the New Frontier's concept of dynamic foreign policy. And it comes as no surprise to anyone—except the New Frontier."

The statement said there was hope at one time that Sukarno might reject Communism, but there was no doubt about his intentions last February when Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy made a goodwill visit to Indonesia.

"Jumping from February to October," the statement continued, "we find Sukarno, having won Dutch New Guinea by default, joining Soviet satellite Romania in a joint communique.

"The two presidents called for world acceptance of two Germanies, transformation of West Berlin into a neutral demilitarized city, and the withdrawal of military bases from foreign territories. They would admit Red China to the U.N., they would oppose interferrence with communist Cuba."

I, ——————, being first duly sworn, say that I reside at No. —— Street in the City of Lincoln, County of Lancaster, and State of Nebraska; that I am a citizen of the United States and a qualified voter of said city; that I am a candidate for the nomination for the office of councilman, to be voted upon at the primary election to be held on the ——day of ——————, 19——, and I hereby request that my name be printed upon the official primary ballot for nomination by such primary election; for said office.

——————Signed——————

Subscribed and sworn to before me by the said —————— this —— day of ——————, 19——.

——————Signed——————

"Such person shall at the same time file with such statement a petition signed by at least one hundred qualified voters requesting such candidacy and shall pay to the city treasurer a filing fee to aid in the expense of holding such primary, of ten dollars and obtain a receipt from the treasurer therefor, which petition shall be filed with the election commissioner substantially in the following form:

"The undersigned duly qualified electors of the City of Lincoln and residing at the places set opposite our respective names hereto attached do hereby request that the name of ——————— be placed on the official ballot as a candidate for nomination for the office of councilman at the primary election to be held in said city on the —— day of ——————, 19——. We further state that we know the said person is a citizen of the United States and a qualified elector of the city and of good moral character and well qualified in our judgment for the duties of such office."

"Candidates for the office of mayor shall be nominated at large at the same time and by the same method as hereinbefore prescribed with respect to the nomination of candidates for the office of councilman, and any person desiring to become a candidate for mayor shall in all respects comply with the provisions of this section, except that, in such case, the foregoing forms of petition and statement shall be modified by substituting therein 'mayor' for 'councilman.'"

ARTICLE IV, Section 3.

"Sec. 3. The official ballot to be prepared and used at such primaries to be held in the year 1963 and every four years thereafter shall be substantially in the following form, placing the names of all candidates upon the ticket without any party designation, circle or mark whatsoever, to-wit:

Candidates for nomination for the office of mayor.
Vote for only one.
(Names of candidates)

Candidates for nomination for the office of councilmen. Vote for only four.
(Names of candidates)

The official ballot to be prepared and used at such primaries to be held in the year 1965 and every four years thereafter shall be substantially in the following form, placing the names of all candidates upon the ticket without any party designation, circle or mark whatsoever, to-wit

Candidates for nomination for the office of councilmen. Vote for only three.
(Names of candidates)

In all other respects the general character of the ballot to be used shall be the same as authorized by the 'Australian Ballot Law' of this state. In printing, the names shall not be arranged alphabetically but shall be rotated according to the following plan: The form shall be set up by the printer with the names in the order in which they are placed upon the sample ballot prepared by the election commissioner. In printing the ballots for the various election districts, the positions of the names shall be changed in each office division for each election district. In making the change of position, the printer shall take the line of type containing the name at the head of each office division and place it at the bottom of that division shoving up the column so that the name that was second before the change shall be first after the change. After receiving such ballot from the election judges, endorsed by them as by law provided, the voter shall mark and cast such ballot. Any voter who shall declare that he will require assistance in voting shall be aided in the manner provided by general law."

ARTICLE IV, Section 4.

"Sec. 4. The two candidates for mayor and the eight candidates for councilmen receiving the highest number of votes at such primary to be held in the year 1963 and every four years thereafter shall be the candidates whose names shall be placed upon the official ballot for the following general city election. The six candidates for councilmen receiving the highest number of votes at such primary to be held in the year 1965 and every four years thereafter shall be the candidates whose names shall be placed upon the official ballot for the following general city election.

"If, after the primary election at which candidates for the office of mayor shall be nominated, a vacancy upon the ballot for the office of mayor is created by the death or declination of a nominated candidate or through any cause whatsoever, such vacancy may be filled by filing petitions with the election commissioner up to fifteen days prior to the general city election. Such petitions must show the name and address of the candidate and the office to be filled. The petitions must bear the signatures of the qualified electors of the city equal in number to at least ten per cent of the total vote cast for mayor in the last preceding general city election.

The names of all candidates for whom sufficient petitions are filed shall be placed upon the official ballot for the general city election."

ARTICLE IV, Section 5.

"Sec. 5. At the general city election at which such candidates so nominated are to be elected, the ballots shall be prepared in substantially the same general form and the names rotated as hereinbefore provided for their nomination at the primary election; and the candidate for mayor receiving the highest number of votes shall be the mayor elected; the four candidates for the office of councilmen receiving the highest number of votes shall be the councilmen elected at the election held in the year 1963 and every four years thereafter; and the three candidates for the office of councilmen receiving the highest number of votes shall be the councilmen elected at the election held in the year 1965 and every four years thereafter."

ARTICLE IV, Section 7.

"Sec. 7. Effective May 20, 1963, each member of the city council shall receive a salary of $20.00 for each regular weekly council meeting attended (special meetings not included). The mayor shall receive an annual salary more than the annual salary of the highest paid head of any city department, in such amount as shall be fixed by the city council. Neither the mayor nor any councilmen shall be eligible to hold any other paid office or employment in the city government."

ARTICLE IV, Section 8.

"Sec. 8. The council shall be composed of seven members, who shall be elected and known as councilmen. All seven councilmen shall be elected by the people on an at-large non-partisan basis and shall serve for a term of four years.

"All legislative powers of the city shall be exclusively vested in the council and shall be exercised by it in the manner and subject to the limitations set forth in this charter. The council shall have the power to pass, amend, and repeal any and all ordinances and other enactments necessary or proper to execute or carry into effect any of the provisions of this charter or any of the powers herein granted, except as otherwise provided in this charter.

"The council shall have the power to conduct investigations concerning any subject upon which it may legislate or the operations of any department, board or commission engaged in the administration of city affairs. In conducting such investigations, the council shall have the power to administer oaths, subpoena witnesses, and compel the production of any books and records pertinent to such investigation. Any person who shall fail to appear in response to subpoena, or shall refuse to answer any question or produce any books and records pertinent to such investigation, or shall knowingly give false testimony therein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to such penalties as may be fixed by ordinance, which the council is hereby authorized to pass, and to such other penalties as may be provided by law.

"Prior to the end of each fiscal year, the council shall contract with a certified public accountant to make, as of the end of the fiscal year, an independent audit of all city funds and accounts in accordance with accepted auditing practices. The audit report shall be submitted to the council, and a copy shall be filed with the mayor immediately upon its receipt. Three copies of the audit report shall be filed in the city clerk's office as a public record.

"In addition to exercising its general legislative investigatory and audit powers, the council shall make or confirm appointments as provided by the charter, adopt the budget, set the tax levy, equalize taxes and assessments, and take such other actions as it deems necessary and as are consistent with this charter."

ARTICLE IV, Section 9.

"Sec. 9. The council shall, on the second Monday following each general city election, elect by majority vote one of its members as first vice-chairman of the council and one of its members as second vice-chairman of the council. During any period in which the mayor is absent from the city or is unable to serve, the first vice-chairman shall perform the duties of the mayor of the city and shall serve as acting mayor. During any period in which both the mayor and the first vice-chairman are absent from the city or are unable to serve, the second vice-chairman shall perform the duties of the mayor of the city and shall serve as acting mayor."

ARTICLE IV, Section 12.

"Sec. 12. The executive and administrative power of the city shall be vested in and exercised by a mayor, who shall also be the ceremonial head of the city government. The mayor shall maintain an office in City Hall and shall devote full time to the duties of that office. The mayor shall be elected by the people at large on an at-large, non-partisan basis and shall serve for a term of four years.

"The mayor shall be fully responsible for the proper conduct of the executive and administrative work and affairs of the city. He shall have the power and shall be required to:

(1) Exercise supervision over all departments and agencies of the city government and provide for the coordination of their activities.

(2) Enforce the provisions of this charter, city ordinances, and all applicable laws.

(3) Exercise powers granted to him in this charter, ordinances and applicable laws concerning the appointment and removal of certain officers, employees, and members of boards and commissions.

(4) Submit annually to the council for its consideration a recommended operating budget and capital improvements program and budget.

(5) Exercise superivision over the making of purchases and contracts and personally make or approve all awards in excess of $5,000.00.

(6) Cause to be prepared, transmitted to the council, and distributed to the public at least an annual report on the activities and accomplishments of the departments and agencies comprising the executive branch.

(7) Promote and encourage improvement of the city government, encourage the commercial and industrial growth of the city, and promote and develop the prosperity and social well-being of its people.

(8) Exercise such other powers and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by this charter, ordinances and resolutions and applicable laws.

"The mayor shall be responsible for appointments of officers and employees in the executive branch, but he may delegate to department and division heads the authority to make certain appointments. He shall appoint with council approval the heads of all departments established in this charter, and he may remove, without council approval, the heads of such departments.

"The mayor shall have the power to conduct investigations of the operations or affairs relating to the performance of any officer, employee, department or agency of the city in any matter with respect to which the mayor may have authority or responsibility. In conducting investigations the mayor shall have the power to administer oaths, to subpoena witnesses, other than councilmen, and to compel the production of books and papers pertinent to such investigation. Any person who shall fail to appear in response to subpoena, or shall refuse to answer any questions or produce any books or records pertinent to such investigation, or shall knowingly give false testimony therein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to such penalties as may be fixed by ordinance, which the council is hereby authorized to pass, and to such other penalties as may be provided by law."

ARTICLE IV, Section 13.

"Sec. 13. The mayor shall be the presiding officer of the council. He shall have the power to present messages, reports and other communications to the council, to propose legislation, and to call special meetings of the council. He shall have the right to vote only when the council is equally divided.

"The mayor shall have the power to veto legislation in the manner, and subject to the limitations hereinafter provided. Within forty-eight hours after the adjournment of any council meeting, the city clerk shall present to the mayor all ordinances and resolutions adopted at the meeting. The mayor, within seven days after the receipt of an ordinance or resolution, shall return it to the city clerk with or without his approval, or with his veto. If he vetoes an ordinance or resolution, the mayor shall attach a written statement explaining the reason for his veto. Ordinances or resolutions vetoed by the mayor shall be considered by the council at its next regular meeting, and the council may pass an ordinance or resolution over the mayor's veto by an affirmative vote of four of its members. The effective date of an ordinance passed over the mayor's veto shall be not less than fifteen days after the date of final passage. The mayor shall not have the power to veto emergency ordinances or any enactments relating to emergency appropriations or emergency borrowing."

ARTICLE IV, Section 14.

"Sec. 14. The executive branch shall comprise the office of mayor, and the following departments, each of which departments shall have the necessary staff and a director or head as designated herein:

Finance Department
Finance Director
Parks, Safety and Public Property Dept.
Parks, Safety and Public Property Director
Personnel Department
Personnel Director
Planning Department
Planning Director
Public Works and Utilities Department
Public Works and Utilities Director

"The primary subdivisions of departments shall be referred to as divisions for purposes of identification in this charter."

ARTICLE IV, Section 15.

"Sec. 15. There is hereby created in the finance department the positions of city clerk, city treasurer, and purchasing agent, all of which positions shall be in the classified service.

"There is hereby created in the parks, safety and public property department, the positions of park superintendent, fire chief, and police chief, all of which positions shall be in the classified service.

"There is hereby created in the public works and utilities department the position of city engineer, which position shall be in the classified service.

"There is also hereby created the position of city attorney, who shall serve all departments of city government, and which position shall be in the classified service, appointed by the mahyor with council approval together with a deputy city attorney and such assistants as may be appointed. The city attorney shall be the legal adviser of the mayor, the city council, and city officers. He shall commence, prosecute, and defend actions on behalf of the city, attend the meetings of the council and give opinions, orally or in writing, as required, upon any matter submitted to him by the mayor, the city council or any officers of the city. He is authorized to prepare, sign and file the proper complaint when there is sufficient evidence to warrant the belief that a person is guilty and can be convicted of a violation of a city ordinance. He shall draft or review for legal correctness, ordinances, contracts, franchises, and other instruments as may be required, and he shall perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by general law or ordinance. The duties of the deputy city attorney and of any assistant city attorney may include those duties of the city attorney, and as may be prescribed by ordinance."

ARTICLE IV, Section 16.

"Sec. 16. The finance director shall have had at least five years of such experience in a public or private financial post as shall qualify him for the duties of the office.

"The parks, safety and public property director shall have had at least five years of administrative experience in public or private work as shall qualify him for the duties of the office.

"The personnel director shall have had at least three years of such experience in the public or private personnel field as shall qualify him for the duties of the office.

"The planning director shall have had at least five years of such experience in the city planning field as shall qualify him for the duties of the office.

"The public works and utilities director shall be a registered engineer and shall have had at least five years of such experience in a responsible public works, utilities, or other engineering post as shall qualify him for the duties of the office.

"The city attorney shall have practiced law in the State of Nebraska for at least five years and shall be an active member of the Nebraska State Bar Association in good standing."

ARTICLE IV, Section 25.

"Sec. 25. In the event that the city is to undertake any new function or programs, the council, after hearing the recommendation of the mayor, and after a favorable vote of the people where such vote is required by this charter, may by ordinance assign such new functions or programs to departments established in this charter, but to the extent that such assignments would not be practicable and in accord with accepted municipal management principles, the council may create additional departments. Any such additional departments shall in all respects be subject to the provisions of this charter.

"After hearing the recommendations of the mayor, the council may by ordinance assign or reassign functions and programs to the immediate office of the mayor or to any of the departments established in or pursuant to this charter. All such assignments or reassignments shall be in accord with the general intent of this charter.

"The internal organization of departments shall be determined by the mayor in consultation with department heads. Divisions may be created, abolished, consolidated, or otherwise changed by executive order of the mayor.

"The mayor may create advisory committees and appoint the members thereof, provided that the function of such committees is to counsel or advise the mayor or designated department heads. Such committees shall not be created for periods longer than one year, but they may be recreated by the mayor. Members of such committees shall serve without pay.

"Temporary or permanent advisory boards and commissions may be established by the council by ordinance or resolution to counsel and advise in such fields and on such matters as the council may designate. Members of such boards and committees shall serve without pay.

"Administrative boards, commissions, and authorities may be established by ordinance when such are deemed necessary by the council to administer programs and functions, but no such board, commission, or authority which is to be assigned responsibility for the control or management of property, personnel, facilities, equipment or finances shall be established until such action has been approved by a majority vote of the electors. The provisions of this section requiring a vote shall apply regardless of whether the establishment of the proposed administrative board, commission, or authority is based on a permissive law of the State of Nebraska, the exercise of the city's home rule powers, or both."

ARTICLE IX, Section 25.

"Sec. 25. The procedure and calendar for the formulation of the annual proposed executive budget and for its submission to the council shall be as follows:

"(1) On or before a date to be prescribed by the mayor, each city department and agency head shall compile and transmit to the finance director estimates for the ensuing year of revenue and operating expenditure for the department or agency concerned, along with such work program information and other supporting data as the mayor may require.

"(2) The mayor, with the assistance of the finance director, shall review all estimates and the capital improvements program, and shall formulate the proposed budget, making such revisions of estimates as the mayor deems desirable.

"(3) Not later than forty days prior to the end of the fiscal and budget year, the mayor shall submit to the council for its consideration and action his proposed budget. Upon submission the budget shall become a public record and shall be open to inspection.

"The provisions of this section shall govern and apply notwithstanding any existing provisions of this charter to the contrary."

ARTICLE IX-A, Section 1.

"Sec. 1. The selection, promotion, and retention of personnel in all departments of the city government shall be based solely upon the merit and fitness of the applicants or employees involved. All regularly paid employees in the city service shall be included in either the unclassified or classified services. The unclassified service shall consist of:

"(1) All officers elected by the people.

"(2) The directors or heads of all departments established in this charter.

"(3) Members of boards or commissions.

"(4) All probationary or temporary employees.

"(5) All employees of the Library Board and the Lincoln General Hospital Board, provided that the council may by ordinance provide for the transfer to the classified service any of these employees and the employees of any other agencies which now, or in the future, spend money appropriated or borrowed by the council or city, or over which the council exercises administrative control.

"The classified service shall consist of all positions not specifically included in the unclassified service. All personnel actions relating to positions in the classified service shall be consistent with the provisions of this article and subject to the supervision and control of the personnel department established in this article, and no employees in the classified service shall be discharged, suspended, or demoted except for just cause.

"The provisions of this section shall govern and apply notwithstanding any existing provisions of this charter to the contrary."

ARTICLE IX-A, Section 9.

"Sec. 9. All powers, duties and rights of the personnel board or the personnel director under this article shall be as provided in this article, notwithstanding any existing provisions of this charter to the contrary."

ARTICLE IX-B, Section 7.

"Sec. 7. Each department or agency annually, on or before a date which the mayor shall establish, shall submit to the planning director a schedule of all capital improvements which it recommends to be undertaken in any of the six succeeding fiscal years.

"The term 'capital improvements' shall include the acquisition of real property, the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, improvement, extention, equipping, or furnishing of any physical improvement, but not routine maintenance work thereon; and equipment with a probable useful life of fifteen or more years.

"The planning director shall examine each recommended project for conformity to the comprehensive plan and shall prepare a consolidated schedule of the projects recommended by the departments which schedule shall describe the character and degree of conformity or non-conformity of each project as it relates to the comprehensive plan. This consolidated schedule shall be submitted to the city planning commission for its review and comment. Not later than seventy-five days prior to the budget adoption date, the commission shall submit the consolidated schedule of projects and its comments thereon to a Capital Improvements Advisory Committee composed of the mayor as chairman, the finance director, the planning director, and the public works and utilities director. The Capital Improvements Advisory Committee shall formulate and recommend a six-year capital improvements program showing exactly which projects should receive appropriations in each of the six succeeding fiscal years. As a part of his annual proposed budget, the mayor shall, after consideration of the recommended capital improvements program, submit to the council his recommendations with respect to the capital budget for the ensuing year.

"The council shall not appropriate any money in any budget for any capital improvement project unless and until the conformity or non-conformity of that project has been reported on by the planning department by special report or in connection with the capital improvements programming process."

ARTICLE IX-B, Section 13.

"Sec. 13. All powers, duties and rights of the city planning commission or planning director under this article shall be as provided in this article, notwithstanding any existing provisions of this charter to the contrary."

ARTICLE X, Section 3.

"Sec. 3. The change in the form of government contemplated by this charter amendment, as submitted to the qualified electors on November 6, 1962, shall occur on May 20, 1963.

"The City of Lincoln shall remain vested with and continue to have hold, and enjoy all property, rights of property, and rights or actions of every nature and description now pertaining to this municipality, and it is declared to be the successor of the same. It shall also be subject to all the liabilities that now exist against this municipality.

"All valid city ordinances, resolutions, orders, and regulations in force at the time this amendment takes effect, and not in conflict with its provisions, shall remain in force until amended or repealed.

"At the time this amendment takes effect, the mayor shall have all the powers, duties and rights conferred upon him by Article IX, Article IX-A, Article IX-B, and by any other provision of this charter."

Said Article IV, Sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, as now existing, be and they are hereby repealed.

Said Article IV, Sections 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12, Article IX, Sections 25 and 36a, Article IX-A, Sections 1 and 9, and Article IX-B, Sections 7 and 13, be and they are hereby repealed, effective May 20, 1963.

Sections 13, 14, 15 and 16 of Articles IV, as presently existing, are hereby renumbered as Sections 21, 22, 23 and 24, respectively, the context remaining in full force and effect under the newly designated numbered sections.

Said amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors as PROPOSITION TO AMEND CHARTER on the ballot, and shall be printed on the ballot in the following form:

PROPOSITION TO AMEND CHARTER

"Shall the Charter of the City of Lincoln be amended by amending Article I by adding a new section to be numbered Section 5, by adding, revising and recodifying Article IV by amending sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9 and 12, repealing section 10, renumbering sections 13, 14, 15, and 16 as sections 21, 22, 23 and 24, respectively, and adding five new sections to be numbered sections 13, 14, 15, 16 and 25; by amending Article IX by amending section 25 and repealing section 36a; by amending Article IX-A, sections 1 and 9, and by amending Article IX-B, sections 7 and 13, by amending Article X by adding a new section to be numbered section 3, all relating to the form and organization of the city government, to provide for a Mayor-Council form of government and to provide for the duties of the Mayor and of the Council, and to eliminate references to the charter provision of Assistant to the Mayor, as proposed in the notice of election?

LEGAL NOTICE OF MEASURES TO BE VOTED UPON NOVEMBER 6, 1962. BALLOT TITLES AND TEXTS OF CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS PROPOSED BY THE 1961 LEGISLATURE

PROPOSED BY THE 1961 LEGISLATURE

Proposed Amendment No. 1

Constitutional amendment to permit the Legislature to authorize lottery or gift enterprises.

☐ For

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1962, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska, for approval, the following amendment to Article III, section 24, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 24. The Legislature shall not authorize any game of chance, nor any lottery, or gift enterprise where the consideration for a chance to participate involves the payment of money for the purchase of property, services, chance or admission ticket, or requires an expenditure of substantial effort or time; but nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the enactment of laws providing for the licensing and regulation of wagering on the results of horse races by the parimutuel or certificate method, when conducted by licensees within the race track enclosure at licensed horse race meetings, or to prohibit the enactment of laws providing for the licensing and regulation of bingo games conducted by nonprofit associations which have been in existence for a period of five years immediately preceding the application for license; Provided, bingo games cannot be conducted by agents or lessees of such associations on a percentage basis."

Proposed Amendment No. 2

Constitutional amendment to provide that the State Railway Commission shall consist of not less than three nor more than seven members, as the Legislature shall prescribe, and that such members shall be elected from districts of substantially equal population as the Legislature shall provide.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1962, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article IV, section 20, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 20. There shall be a State Railway Commission, consisting of not less than three nor more than seven members, as the Legislature shall prescribe, whose term of office shall be six years, and whose compensation shall be fixed by the Legislature. Beginning with the general election in 1964, commissioners shall be elected by districts of substantially equal population as the Legislature shall provide, but this amendment shall not affect the term of any commissioner elected prior to its effective date. The powers and duties of such commission shall include the regulation of rates, service and general control of common carriers as the Legislature may provide by law. But, in the absence of specific legislation, the commission shall exercise the powers and perform the duties enumerated in this provision."

Proposed Amendment No. 3

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1962, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article IV, section 1, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 1. The executive officers of the state shall be the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Attorney General, and the heads of such other executive departments as set forth herein or as may be established by law. The Legislature may provide for the placing of the above named officers as heads over such departments of government as it may by law establish. The Attorney General, Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts, and the Treasurer shall be chosen at the general election held in November, 1958, and in each even-numbered year thereafter, and their term of office shall be two years and until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

The Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall be chosen at the general election held in November, 1964, for a two year term and at the general election held in November, 1966, and in each alternate even-numbered year thereafter, for a term of four years and until their successors shall be elected and qualified. The records, books, and papers of all executive officers shall be kept at the seat of government, and such officers, excepting the Lieutenant Governor and members of boards and commissions when the board or commission is the head of an executive department, shall reside there during their respective terms of office. Officers in the executive department of the state shall perform such duties as may be provided by law. The heads of all executive departments established by law, other than those to be elected as provided herein, shall be appointed by the Governor, with the consent of a majority of all members elected to the Legislature, but officers so appointed may be removed by the Governor. Subject to the provisions of this Constitution, the heads of the various executive or civil departments shall have power to appoint and remove all subordinate employees in their respective departments."

Proposed Amendment No. 5

Constitutional amendment to provide a four year term of office for members of the Legislature, with one half being elected each two years, and to provide for the transition.

☐ For

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1962, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to Article III, section 7, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 7. At the general election to be held in November, 1964, one half the members of the Legislature, or as nearly thereto as may be practicable, shall be elected for a term of four years, and the remainder for a term of two years, and thereafter all members shall be elected for a term of four years, with the manner of such election to be determined by the Legislature. Each member shall be nominated and elected in a nonpartisan manner and without any indication on the ballot that he is affiliated with or endorsed by any political party or organization. Each member of the Legislature shall receive a salary of not to exceed two hundred dollars per month during the term of his office. In addition to his salary, each member shall receive an amount equal to his actual expenses in traveling by the most usual route once to and returning from each regular or special session of the Legislature. Members of the Legislature shall receive no pay nor perquisites other than said salary and expenses, and employees of the Legislature shall receive no compensation other than their salary or per diem."

Proposed Amendment No. 6

Constitutional amendment to provide a merit plan for the selection and term of office of the Chief Justice and Judges of the Supreme Court, judges of the district courts and judges of such other courts as the Legislature may prescribe.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1962, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the amendments of the Constitution of Nebraska which are set forth in section 2 of this act and which are hereby proposed by the Legislature.

Sec. 2. The amendments proposed are as follows:

(1) To amend Article IV, section 11 to read as follows:

"Sec. 11. In case of a vacancy during the recess of the Legislature, in any office which is not elective, except officers provided for in Article V of this Constitution, the Governor shall make a temporary appointment until the next meeting of the Legislature, when he shall nominate some person to fill such office; and any person so nominated, who is confirmed by the Legislature, a majority of all the legislators elected concurring by voting yeas and nays, shall hold his office during the remainder of the term, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified. No person after being rejected by the Legislature shall be again nominated for the same office at the same session, unless at request of the Legislature, or be appointed to the same office during the recess of the Legislature."

(2) To amend Article V, sections 4, 5, 7, 10, 15, 20 and 21 to read as follows:

"Sec. 4. The Chief Justice and the Judges of the Supreme Court shall be selected as provided in this Article V. They shall reside at the place where the court is located but no Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court shall be deemed thereby to have lost his residence at the place from which he was selected.

Sec. 5. The Legislature shall divide the state along county lines into six compact districts of approximately equal population, which shall be numbered from one to six, consecutive numbers to be given adjacent districts and shall be the Supreme Court judicial districts. Such districts shall not be changed, except upon the concurrence of two-thirds of the members of the Legislature, nor shall any such change vacate the office of any judge.

Sec. 7. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court unless he shall be at least thirty years of age, and a citizen of the United States, and shall have resided in this state at least three years next preceding his selection; nor, in the case of a Judge of the Supreme Court selected from a Supreme Court judicial district, unless he shall be a resident and elector of the district from which selected.

Sec. 10. The state shall be divided into district court judicial districts. Until otherwise provided by law, the boundaries of the judicial districts and the number of judges of the district courts shall remain as now fixed. The judges of the district courts shall be selected from the respective districts as provided in this Article V.

Sec. 15. In the year 1964 and every four years thereafter, there shall be selected, in such manner as the Legislature shall provide, in and for each county, one or more judges as the Legislature may provide, who shall be judge of the county court of such county, whose term of office shall be four years and whose salary shall be fixed by the Legislature; Provided, that two or more counties may form a county court judicial district when approved by a majority of the electors of each county in the district; and provided further, when two or more counties form a county court judicial district, one county judge shall be selected for a term of four years from the district at the same time other county judges are selected, whose salary shall be fixed by the Legislature.

Sec. 20. All officers provided for in this Article shall hold their offices until their successors shall be qualified and they shall respectively reside in the district, county or precinct, from which they shall be selected. All officers, when not otherwise provided for in this Article, shall perform such du

Stocks Go Down On Active Day

New York (AP)—The stock market had a fairly sharp decline Wednesday as trading picked up enough to make it the biggest day in nearly three weeks.

Recent trading, however, has been so sluggish that the total of 3.24 million shares was still well below the daily trading average of 3.7 million for the first nine months of 1962.

The turnover compared with Tuesday's total of 2.86 million shares and was the largest since Sept. 27 when 3.54 million shares changed hands.

It was another of the string of recent sessions which added nothing of profound significance to market history. The volume total was increased by a pretty wide assortment of sizeable blocks which apparently represented taxloss transactions which are expected to be on the increase in the next several weeks. There was no sign of a rise in public participation.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed with a loss of 1.67 at 587.68.

The final reading on the Dow industrials was considerably better than its lowest at noon, when the loss stood at 4.77. The market was down pretty sharply then but selective improvement in the afternoon pared away a considerable amount of the loss.

The background of economic news remained "flat." Much of the market comment was pessimistic.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.0 at 217.9, with industrials down .9, rails down .8, and utilities down .8.

The loss exactly canceled Monday's gain in the AP average. An estimated $1.4 billion was subtracted from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the decline in the indicator.

Of 1,274 issues traded, 767 declined and 244 advanced. There were 80 new lows for the year and three new highs.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks declined, three advanced, and Texas Instruments was unchanged.

Prices moved generally lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 990,000 shares compared with 810,000 Tuesday.

Corporate bonds advanced as they were paced by railroad issues. U.S. government bonds declined.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

New York (AP)—AP weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities advanced Tuesday to 160.84.

Previous day 160.80, week ago 161.15, month ago 163.90, year ago 165.56.

New Library Operating Only In Limited Way

The new Bennet Martin Public Library is operating this week on a limited basis, according to Charles Dalrymple, director.

The book, records and picture loan services are functioning, but the reference services are limited, said Dalrymple.

He added that they felt they should open the doors of the library because the public had been "inconvenienced long enough."

"Our patrons are very gracious and cooperative, and understand it is a big undertaking to move and get ready for use more than 150,000 volumes," he said.

The delay in opening was attributed to construction problems, but Dalrymple added that the elevator would soon be in operation and the card catalogue ready for public use.

The new library is expected to reach and surpass previous circulation records, without a marked decline in branch business, he concluded.

MIT Boss Doing Well

Boston (AP)—Dr. James R. Killian, chairman of the corporation of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has undergone surgery for a urinary tract condition at New England Baptist Hospital where he was reported comfortable and doing well.

Teachers Cheat At Polish School; Given Sentences

Warsaw, Poland (AP) — One Polish high school's cheating problem involved not students but the principal and staff.

Principal Helen Prusek has been sentenced to two years in prison and barred from her profession for 10 years for issuing diplomas with forged signatures of two "students" who never attended class, the Polish Press Agency (PAP) reported.

The Krakow provincial court also pronounced sentences and fines on a teacher, office clerks and the school janitor for helping to falsify the records of the school at Przemysl.

The forged diplomas sold for 4,000 to 5,000 zlotys (up to $200). They were needed to get state jobs.

Innocent Plea To Shooting Charge Given

William Adair, 40, of 4140 Vine, charged in connection with a Sept. 26 shooting incident, pleaded innocent in Lancaster District Court Wednesday.

Adair is charged with assault with intent to wound or maim Thomas Myers, also of 4140 Vine, who suffered a bullet wound in the stomach.

According to police, Myers' brother-in-law, Charles F. Domant, reported that the shooting incident occurred following an argument between Myers and Mrs. Domant.

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele set trial for the jury term beginning Nov. 5 or as soon as the case can be reached.

1. Look Here—A large 4-Plex in the finest older southeast location near 20th and "B" St. Sturdy Brick construction assures minimum maintenance. Constant occupancy. Each of these 4 apartments is larger and better than any comparable property. Owner can occupy the large 1st floor apartment, or increase substantially, your income if rent this large unit. See it and be impressed at the fine value. Price is $26,500.

2. Price Slashed—Owner phoned to cut price way down to $16,000. On Prairie Road, surrounded by much more expensive homes, this 2 bedroom ranch style has additional bedroom in basement. Separate dining room, living room open to care-free patio, easy working kitchen, and attached garage. Let's talk about the Easy Financing.

3. Now—For large family. One of those fine, so well-built older homes, that has been excellently modernized to make it as complete as any new one. Read carefully—5 bedrooms—3½ baths —2 fireplaces—central air-conditioned—modern kitchen—convenient 1st floor utility room—recreation room and wonderful large grounds with splendid trees, shrubs and flowers—so ideal for the youngsters to romp. Owner transferred—here truly is what the large family needs.

4. You Tell Us—After you look at this 3 bedroom easy-to-live-in Home on Prestwick Road, you tell us if you don't think it's as good a Buy for the money, as any you may have seen. Best of condition, price of only $13,750 includes Washer-Dryer, Disposal, full air-conditioning, attached garage and a very, very pretty, large yard. And to add the frosting, you can assume a 4½% GI Loan. Better call us and see it right now. It won't last long.
